

Oregon State Board Book

This book is intended to be a basic guide to the boards and commissions of Oregon. This information is only a summary of available resources and is periodically updated to reflect recent additions and changes. For complete information, please see the ORS of the related board and contact the board itself.

**Note: Due to the short-term duration of some task forces and workgroups, the information herein may not be up-to-date.*

Updated June 2015

This document does not include the newly created boards, commissions, and task forces during the 2015 session.

Send any updates and edits to Executive.Appointments@oregon.gov and in the Subject line write Board Book.

Members of Oregon state boards and commissions are vital participants in policymaking, regulation, advisory and advocacy efforts for a wide variety of issues affecting all Oregonians.

The Governor makes appointments to more than 300 boards and commissions. This booklet contains a description of each of those boards.

Listed under the name of each board is:

- The statute (ORS), executive order (EO), administrative rule (OAR), House Bill (HB), Senate Bill (SB) or Public Law (PL) that authorizes it;
- If Senate confirmation of the Governor's appointment is required;
- The total number of members on the board and how many the Governor appoints;
- The position requirements (if any) for the members appointed by the Governor.

The Governor encourages all Oregonians to become actively involved in the administration of their state government. Application forms and a current listing of openings on the boards listed in this booklet may be obtained on-line or from:

The Private Activity Bond Committee helps facilitate the construction of critical facilities for the public benefit in communities throughout Oregon. Certain types of privately owned facilities such as airports, boat docks, affordable housing, or sports stadiums, provide significant benefits to the communities they serve. When the construction of a private facility would provide important public benefits, the project can often be financed using tax-exempt bonds. Doing so reduces financing costs and can play an important role in making such projects possible.

Citizens' Initiative Review is an innovative way of publicly evaluating ballot measures so voters have clear, useful, and trustworthy information at election time.

During the Citizens' Initiative Review, a panel of randomly-selected and demographically-balanced voters is brought together from across the state to fairly evaluate a ballot measure. The panel hears directly from campaigns for and against the measure and calls upon policy experts during the multi-day public review. For each measure reviewed, a new panel is convened.

At the conclusion of the in-depth review, the panel then drafts a Citizens' Statement highlighting the most important findings about the measure. Each Citizens' Statement is published as a prominent page in the voters' pamphlet as a new and easily accessible resource for voters to use at election time.

The Oregon Government Ethics Commission (OGEC), established by vote of the people in 1974, is a seven-member citizen commission charged with enforcing government ethics laws. Oregon government ethics laws prohibit public officials from using office for financial gain, and require public disclosure of economic conflict of interest. The OGEC also enforces state laws which require lobbyists and the entities they represent to register and periodically report their expenditures. The third area of OGEC jurisdiction is the executive session provisions of public meetings law.

The Physical Therapist Licensing Board was created in 1971 to regulate the practice of physical therapy in Oregon. The Board's purpose is public protection and to establish professional standards of practice which assure that physical therapists and physical therapist assistants are properly educated, hold valid/current licenses, practice within their scope of practice and continue to receive ongoing training throughout their careers. Physical therapy practice is governed by state statutes and rules, which define the scope of practice. The Board issues licenses, promulgates rules, monitors continuing education, investigates complaints, issues civil penalties for violations and may revoke, suspend or impose probation on a licensee or limit his/her practice. The Board is comprised of eight volunteer members: five physical therapists, one physical therapist assistant, and two public members. Each member is appointed by the Governor and may serve a four-year term, with a maximum of two terms. The Board is self-supporting and activities are financed solely from licensure and related fees.

Agency:

Meeting Frequency: Weekly for hearings, quarterly administrative meetings

Meeting Location: Salem for hearings, quarterly meetings are in Portland

The Psychiatric Security Review Board (PSRB) was created by the Oregon Legislature in 1977 for the purpose of assuming jurisdiction of those persons who successfully asserted the insanity defense to a criminal charge. Each panel is comprised of five part-time members (psychiatrist, psychologist, attorney, parole and probation officer, and a member of the public) and is multi-disciplinary in nature. It bridges the criminal justice and mental health systems. Its enabling statutes direct the Board to have as its primary purpose the protection of society while remaining mindful of the rights of individuals under its jurisdiction. Its mission is to protect the public through the on-going review of the progress of "guilty except for insanity" and "responsible except for insanity" clients and a determination of their appropriate placement. It does that through a hearings process in which a panel of Board members meet to review individual cases in order to determine which clients must remain in secure custody and which can be adequately supervised and treated in the community under conditions set and monitored by the Board.

In 2009, the Oregon Legislature expanded the role and responsibilities of the PSRB. As part of the implementation of the federal mandate in the National Criminal Background Check System Improvement Act (NIAA), it created a "gun relief program and records reconciliation program" as required by that federal law, and placed the responsibility for conducting those hearings on the PSRB as well as submitting client data to Oregon State Police for inclusion in the National Instant Criminal Background Check System (NICS).
