SOU and EOU Conditions Reports Presentations

Summary:

The Higher Education Coordinating Commission (HECC) is responsible for determining whether Southern Oregon University and Eastern Oregon University have satisfied the conditions that were established for them upon their receipt of institutional governing boards in 2014 (see accompanying material). As outlined in Section 168a, Chapter 768, Oregon Laws 2013 (as amended by SB 493 (2015)), Southern Oregon University and Eastern Oregon University must submit to the HECC a comprehensive final report demonstrating the institution's unique mission, program focus, and long-term financial viability. The Commission will evaluate whether the institution effectively demonstrates a clear institutional focus and durable niche within the portfolio of public higher education assets in Oregon. Under the law, the Commission must notify the Governor, the Legislative Assembly, and the institutional governing boards whether the conditions have been met.

While not serving as a single decision point, an analysis of financial data will inform the subsequent HECC report and recommendation. The analysis will generally be informed by accepted financial standards and best practices, institutional peer data, and in reference to other Oregon public universities.

Today, SOU and EOU present their third and final conditions reports to the Commission. Final written materials will be submitted to the HECC by December 31, 2017. In early 2018, the Commission will make its final determination about whether the institutions have satisfied the conditions, and will subsequently notify the Governor, Legislative Assembly, and institutional governing boards
