Academic Year 2025-2026

Linfield University

The following report is provided pursuant to ORS 350.345 for the 2024-2025 academic year, which includes data from August 1, 2025, through August 1, 2026.

ORS 350.345 requires all Oregon institutions of higher education to submit this report to the Legislative Committees on Education, the Higher Education Coordinating Commission, and the Director of the Department of Human Services by October 1 of each year. Oregon Administrative Rule 715-030-0040 clarifies what should be included in the report.

The text of the statute subsection and any related element of the rule precede each table to explain what is included in the counts.

Reporting tables by subsection

ORS 350.345 (a) The total number of allegations of sexual misconduct during the previous academic year that were reported to the institution's Title IX coordinator by a student or employee of the institution against:

(A) Another student or employee of the institution; or

(B) An unknown individual or an individual for whom the institution categorizes the report as "other."

OAR 715-030-0040(1) For the purposes of ORS 350.345(2)(a), a report of sexual misconduct made to a Title IX coordinator or equivalent official includes any report made by a student or employee of the institution, regardless of whether it is a first person account, third-person account, or anonymous account provided the report includes information that:

(a) the person who experienced the sexual misconduct is a student or employee of the institution; and

(b) there is sufficient information to determine the type of sexual misconduct that occurred.

OAR 715-030-0040(2) An institution need only report and count one incidence of sexual misconduct if multiple reports are made of the same sexual misconduct action committed by the same person against the same victim.

OAR 715-030-0040(8) An institution shall not include the student or employee in the count of individuals investigated but not found responsible for violating sexual misconduct policies or codes of conduct prohibiting sexual misconduct policies if they were found responsible for other violations of sexual misconduct policies or codes of conduct prohibiting sexual misconduct during the reporting period.

Sexual harassment: unwelcome conduct of a sexual nature. Sexual harassment includes unwelcome sexual advances, requests for sexual favors, or other verbal, nonverbal or physical conduct of a sexual nature where such conduct is sufficiently severe or pervasive that it has the effect, intended or unintended, of unreasonably interfering with an individual's work or academic performance or it has created an intimidating, hostile or offensive environment and would have such an effect on a reasonable person.	7
Sexual violence: actual or attempted physical contact of a sexual nature or in a sexual context without the other person's consent, if the other person is incapacitated in any way, or without their ability to refuse the physical contact. Sexual violence includes physical contact through violence, coercion, or when the person is unable to give consent or refuse the physical contact because of vulnerability, intoxication, or unconsciousness. Examples of physical contact of a sexual nature or in a sexual context include forcible kissing, penetration of someone's body by another person's body part or an object, or the use of their body to penetrate another, and touching another person's intimate areas (for example, breasts, genitals, or buttocks), including groping, fondling, rape, sexual assault, and sexual abuse.	6

Stalking: repeated and unwanted contact that causes the victim reasonable apprehension regarding the personal safety of the victim or a member of the victim's immediate family or household and it is objectively reasonable for a person in the victim's situation to have been alarmed or coerced by the contact. Stalking includes, but is not limited to, repeated and unwanted contact such as: electronic or in-person surveillance; sending communications including unwanted items to the target or people in the target's family, school, or workplace; tracking the target's physical location; accessing or monitoring a person's phone and other computing devices; property damage; and threats. This includes unwelcome advances, economic manipulation, requests for sexual favors, or other verbal, nonverbal or physical conduct based on sexual orientation and of a nature where such conduct is sufficiently severe or pervasive that it has the effect, intended or unintended, of unreasonably interfering with an individual's work or academic performance or it has created an intimidating, hostile or offensive environment and would have such an effect on a reasonable person. (b) Violence based on sexual orientation means any form of violence against an individual based on the person's real or perceived sexual orientation. This includes physical, sexual, and psychological abuse; threats; coercion; and arbitrary deprivation of liberty, whether in public or private life.	0

This includes unwelcome gender-based advances, economic manipulation, requests for sexual favors, or other verbal, nonverbal or physical conduct of a gender-based nature where such conduct is sufficiently severe or pervasive that it has the effect, intended or unintended, of unreasonably interfering with an individual's work or academic performance or it has created an intimidating, hostile or offensive environment and would have such an effect on a reasonable person. (b) Gender-based violence means any form of violence against an individual based on their biological sex, gender identity or expression, or perceived deviation from socially defined expectations of male-female binary gender stereotypes. This includes physical, sexual, and psychological abuse; threats; coercion; and arbitrary deprivation of liberty, whether in public or private life.	0

Some of the reports received had multiple violations in one report. For example, stalking and sexual harassment.

ORS 350.345(L) A section for narrative discussion in which the institution may:

(A) Describe any work being done at the institution to ensure the institution has accurate information:

The Title IX Coordinator directly collaborates with Student Affairs and Human Resources staff to ensure reporting is accurate and maintained in a central location. Further, the Title IX Coordinator has weekly meetings with the Deputy Title IX Coordinator to review cases and confirm no additional information has been provided. The Title IX Office regularly provides ongoing training to reinforce the importance of reporting, where to report, and what information is needed when a report is made.

(B) Explain any trends and changes in data regarding the numbers being reported:

Campus reporting trends have slightly increased this year, as reflected by University data, but they do not account for non-affiliated or unknown individuals. If the reporting template had stayed consistent, then the statistical reporting would not have had such a varied fluctuation from the 2025 report to this year.

The University attributes the increase in reporting to the work being done by campus employees on training and awareness education. The increased awareness of institutional resources, improved understanding of reporting options, and increased confidence in the University's support and response processes have likely contributed to this growth. Increased reporting should not necessarily be interpreted as an increase in underlying incidents of misconduct but may instead indicate greater awareness and a willingness to utilize available supportive resources.

It should also be noted that many reports are with unknown or unaffiliated individuals. If the Respondent is unaffiliated with the University, then response is limited and can only be addressed via supportive measures and other protective steps, such as no trespass directives or referrals to local law enforcement. The University is committed to providing ongoing support to any person that reports they have experienced harm regardless of where the incident occurred or if the Respondent is a non-affiliated individual.

(C) Discuss any supportive measures provided or potential gaps in supportive measures being provided:

The University is committed to providing reasonable supportive measures to all students in need. Linfield University offers comprehensive care, including referrals to counseling services, the campus advocate, and other community resources. The University employs a Director of Care dedicated to promoting student well-being and supporting academic success and campus engagement. The Title IX Coordinator collaborates closely with these professionals to help ensure students can continue and thrive in their educational pursuits.

(D) Discuss how the institution is working to eliminate sexual misconduct on the campus of the institution:

The University is committed to providing ongoing training and education to all members of the campus community. In addition to continuous training efforts, University policies and procedures are regularly reviewed and updated to reflect best practices and address evolving needs of the campus community. Students receive ongoing awareness programming focused on preventing sexual misconduct, encouraging active bystander intervention, developing effective communication skills, and promoting safe alcohol and other drug use. The University acknowledges the many complex factors that contribute to sexual misconduct and strives to educate the community on each of these interconnected elements.
