ORS 350.345(k) Type of violence	Total count reported (if total exceeds 8, explain in narrative section L)
Sexual harassment: unwelcome conduct of a sexual nature. Sexual harassment includes unwelcome sexual advances, requests for sexual favors, or other verbal, nonverbal or physical conduct of a sexual nature where such conduct is sufficiently severe or pervasive that it has the effect, intended or unintended, of unreasonably interfering with an individual's work or academic performance or it has created an intimidating, hostile or offensive environment and would have such an effect on a reasonable person.	18
Sexual violence: actual or attempted physical contact of a sexual nature or in a sexual context without the other person's consent, if the other person is incapacitated in any way, or without their ability to refuse the physical contact. Sexual violence includes physical contact through violence, coercion, or when the person is unable to give consent or refuse the physical contact because of vulnerability, intoxication, or unconsciousness. Examples of physical contact of a sexual nature or in a sexual context include forcible kissing, penetration of someone's body by another person's body part or an object, or the use of their body to penetrate another, and touching another person's intimate areas (for example, breasts, genitals, or buttocks), including groping, fondling, rape, sexual assault, and sexual abuse.	18
Intimate partner violence: a form of domestic violence in which the persons involved are in a relationship of a romantic or sexual nature. The relationship may be past or current. Other terms for this might include "dating violence" or "relationship abuse."	5
Domestic violence: attempting to cause or causing physical or emotional injury; placing another in fear of physical or emotional injury; or engaging in any sexual contact without the other person's consent when the other person is a spouse, former spouse, adult related by blood or marriage, a person cohabitating, a person having cohabitated in the past, a person involved or previously involved in a sexually intimate relationship, or unmarried co-parent of a minor child. Domestic violence includes coercive control; physical abuse; financial abuse or control; emotional abuse; technological abuse; reproductive coercion; sexual violence; sexual exploitation; and stalking.	0

ORS 350.345(k) Type of violence	Total count reported (if total exceeds 8, explain in narrative section L)
Sexual exploitation: any actual or attempted abuse of a position of vulnerability, differential power, or trust, for sexual purposes in the absence of consent. Sexual exploitation includes: (a) Creating or sharing an intimate or sexual image or recording of a person's likeness without their consent or sending intimate or sexual images or recordings to a person without their consent; coercing another person to create an intimate image or record a sexual act under threat of physical, emotional, or financial abuse; (b) Displaying intimate areas of one's body to another person without their consent in a place where such display would not reasonably be expected; engaging in sexual activity while another person was present without their consent; or (c) Observing another person's intimate areas or sexual activity without their knowledge or consent and in a place where the person has a reasonable expectation of privacy.	1
Stalking: repeated and unwanted contact that causes the victim reasonable apprehension regarding the personal safety of the victim or a member of the victim's immediate family or household and it is objectively reasonable for a person in the victim's situation to have been alarmed or coerced by the contact. Stalking includes, but is not limited to, repeated and unwanted contact such as: electronic or in-person surveillance; sending communications including unwanted items to the target or people in the target's family, school, or workplace; tracking the target's physical location; accessing or monitoring a person's phone and other computing devices; property damage; and threats. Stalking may involve the use of third parties to accomplish the behaviors.	1

ORS 350.345(k) Type of violence	Total count reported (if total exceeds 8, explain in narrative section L)
Harassment or violence based on sexual orientation: either harassment based on sexual orientation or violence based on sexual orientation. (a) Harassment based on sexual orientation means unwelcome conduct based on a person's real or perceived sexual orientation. This includes unwelcome advances, economic manipulation, requests for sexual favors, or other verbal, nonverbal or physical conduct based on sexual orientation and of a nature where such conduct is sufficiently severe or pervasive that it has the effect, intended or unintended, of unreasonably interfering with an individual's work or academic performance or it has created an intimidating, hostile or offensive environment and would have such an effect on a reasonable person. (b) Violence based on sexual orientation means any form of violence against an individual based on the person's real or perceived sexual orientation. This includes physical, sexual, and psychological abuse; threats; coercion; and arbitrary deprivation of liberty, whether in public or private life.	0
Gender-based harassment or violence: either gender-based harassment or gender-based violence. (a) Gender-based harassment means unwelcome conduct against an individual based on their biological sex, gender identity or expression, or perceived deviation from socially defined expectations of male-female binary gender stereotypes. This includes unwelcome gender-based advances, economic manipulation, requests for sexual favors, or other verbal, nonverbal or physical conduct of a gender-based nature where such conduct is sufficiently severe or pervasive that it has the effect, intended or unintended, of unreasonably interfering with an individual's work or academic performance or it has created an intimidating, hostile or offensive environment and would have such an effect on a reasonable person. (b) Gender-based violence means any form of violence against an individual based on their biological sex, gender identity or expression, or perceived deviation from socially defined expectations of male-female binary gender stereotypes. This includes physical, sexual, and psychological abuse; threats; coercion; and arbitrary deprivation of liberty, whether in public or private life.	0
Other: conduct reported would not meet above definitions	1

ORS 350.345(k) Type of violence	Total count reported (if total exceeds 8, explain in narrative section L)
	44

[If not required by (e) or (k), the following section is optional and may be omitted:]

ORS 350.345(L) A section for narrative discussion in which the institution may:

- (A) Describe any work being done at the institution to ensure the institution has accurate information;
 - Regular tracking of reports and annual report data from the Title IX Office
- (B) Explain any trends and changes in data regarding the numbers being reported;
 - For HECC reporting purposes, the number of reports received by the Title IX Office was higher in 2025-26 (44) compared to 2024-25 (34). This is because the 2024-25 directive specifically stated to report “the total number of allegations of sexual misconduct that were reported to the institution’s Title IX coordinator by a student or employee of the institution against another student or employee of the institution.” The criteria changed in this year’s request to include reports against “An unknown individual or an individual for whom the institution categorizes the report as “other.” If using this new criteria, in reviewing the annual report submitted by the Title IX Office for 2024-25, the actual number of reports received was 53. This means, the Title IX Office is tracking a decrease in the number of reports received this past year.
- (C) Discuss any supportive measures provided or potential gaps in supportive measures being provided; and
 - Supportive measures facilitated by the Title IX Office this past year included Restricted Contact Orders, Referrals to Confidential Resources, a No Trespass letter, and a Pregnancy-related Accommodation.

- Note: The supportive measures reported here do not account for any supportive measures that may have been requested by confidential resources (i.e., campus confidential advocate, counseling center) on behalf of Complainants.

(D) Discuss how the institution is working to eliminate sexual misconduct on the campus of the institution.

- The institution continues to evaluate its prevention and awareness education programs for students and employees to combat sexual misconduct on its campus. WU is committed to fostering a campus environment that is free of discrimination and harassment and respects the dignity and worth of all community members. The institution requires annual training for all employees and requires both online and in-person training programs for all new students each year. The institution also provides annual one-off training sessions on prevention, intervention and response for all athletes, and other student leaders such as Resident Advisors, Orientation Assistants and other student groups.
- This fall a new violence prevention initiative began: PACT (Prepare, Awaken, Connect, Transform): Preventing Harm, Empowering Change. PACT is designed to meet participants where they are and support their growth over time. Prepare introduces shared language and reflection early in students' campus experience. Awaken connects personal experience to broader systems and culture. Connect builds practical skills through peer-led engagement and dialogue. Transform supports student leadership and sustained culture change.
- Peer Educators facilitated 29 new educational programs addressing sexual assault, intimate partner violence, and stalking prevention, and gender and sexuality.
- Launched a Violence Prevention Leader Training for student club and organization leaders
- Initiated a men's engagement effort, the Men's Anti-Violence Initiative, in partnership with a peer educator and student leaders from Kappa Sigma and Athletics.
- Take Back the Night, a rally and vigil with a mission of ending sexual assault, domestic violence, relationship abuse, and all other forms of sexual violence was held in partnership with 8 student organizations and a community partner, with over 100 participants

Additional Clarification

For letter (a): Allegations of sexual misconduct reported during the previous academic year – the total number of employees (37) includes Resident Advisors who submitted reports in their role as “responsible employees.”

For letter (a): Allegations of sexual misconduct reported during the previous academic year and letter (k) Types of violence – the total number (44) reflects the actual number of reports received. If a report listed multiple types of violence but there was not enough information to classify the conduct, it was categorized as “sexual harassment.”

For letters (c), (d), and (e), the report specifically asks for numbers relating to students and employees found responsible for violating policies prohibiting sexual misconduct, the numbers relating to students and employees who faced discipline for “responsible” outcomes, and the the number of students and employees who were investigated but found “not responsible.” The report does not ask for information related to the total number of formal complaints and related outcomes. To be more clear, six formal complaints were filed with the Title IX Office this past year: 3 complaints were resolved with Alternative Resolution Agreements; 2 complaints were issued Title IX Discretionary Dismissals because both complainants formally withdrew their complaints in writing, post-investigation and prior to a hearing; and 1 complaint is pending a resolution and hearing outcome.

For letter (k): Added a bottom row categorized as “Other” to capture reported conduct that would not meet above definitions.
