

General Fact Sheet: Oregon Promise Awarding for 2022-23

This fact sheet provides information about Oregon Promise awarding and eligibility criteria for the 2022-23 academic year. The Office of Student Access and Completion (OSAC) is an office of the Higher Education Coordinating Commission (HECC). For more information, visit OregonPromise.org. Contact OregonPromise@hecc.oregon.gov with questions.

Oregon Promise has started the awarding process for 2022-23. What does this mean for new students?

OSAC has started awarding the Oregon Promise Grant to new students (Class of 2022) who will begin college in Fall 2021. As of April 2022:

- Who has been awarded so far? All eligible new applicants have been awarded for the 2022-23 academic year.

Each spring, OSAC determines if (and what) the EFC limit will be. The decision is based on applicant volume and available funds. For Class of 2022, there is no EFC limit. Due to a declined college enrollment, higher Oregon Opportunity Grant awards, and less continuing Oregon Promise students, there is sufficient funding to award all eligible Class of 2022 applicants.

For new students (Class of 2022) who will begin college in Fall 2022, please read the Fact Sheet for New Students & Families. The Fact Sheet answers these questions:

- How can I check my status? I haven't received any emails from OSAC.
- How is my award amount calculated?
- I haven't applied for Oregon Promise yet. Can I still apply?

Students will only be considered for Oregon Promise if they apply by their deadline.
Most students must apply by JUNE 1 at 5:00pm.

What are the awarding criteria for continuing Oregon Promise recipients?

For students who began receiving the Oregon Promise Grant in 2021-22 or earlier, they are not subject to any EFC limit. These students can be eligible for the grant in 2022-23. Students must meet all requirements for renewal of the grant, including filing the FAFSA or ORSAA by June 1. OSAC will begin emailing students in June 2021 with renewal award information.

What are the awarding criteria for applicants in future years?

For students who graduate in March 2023 or later, OSAC has not determined if there will be an Expected Family Contribution limit. OSAC evaluates available funds on an annual basis to determine if and where to establish an EFC limit for each new group of applicants. OSAC may decide to adjust or eliminate the EFC limit in future years, depending on available funds. OSAC typically announces any EFC limit information for the upcoming year during spring. All awards are subject to action and adjustments by the Oregon Legislature.
