

2021 Legislative Concept Proposal LC 598 - Placeholder on Higher Education Delivery

Problem

The Coronavirus has caused a significant and immediate shift in the higher education environment, and the resulting financial and economic effects may force long term rethinking about how education is delivered. At the very least, the higher education market, in terms of demographics and student decision making, is at high risk of being permanently altered. Market and demographic factors that signal a need to rethink pedagogy, student services, and campus environments may accelerate.

Proposed Solution

This proposal is a placeholder. It is more likely than not these issues will be considered after the 2021 legislative session, but this bill may serve as a vehicle to establish the parameters of such a discussion.
