

OREGON JURISPRUDENCE BLUEPRINT

THE JURISPRUDENCE EXAM IS OPEN BOOK AND QUESTIONS ARE MULTIPLE CHOICE

Although the exam is called “open book” examination, you do need to review the Oregon Revised Statutes, Oregon Administrative Rules and know your responsibility as a Mandatory reporter.

OREGON JURISPRUDENCE EXAMINATION

(1 1/2 hours is allowed for this exam)

For the Jurisprudence section of the examination you need to review the following documents

Oregon Revised Statutes (ORS) Chapter 685

Oregon Administrative Rules (OAR) Chapter 850

Oregon Laws on Mandatory Reporting: Communicable Disease; Elder Abuse; Child Abuse

Questions are multiple choice and require you to be familiar with ORS 685 – the laws (ORS 685) are amended with approval from the Legislature; and OAR 850 – the rules (OAR 850) are amended by the Board and approved by licensees. Emphasis is on license requirements and restrictions, continuing education, grounds for discipline, responsibilities and definitions. Statute and Rules can be found at <http://www.oregon.gov/obnm/Pages/ORSOAR.aspx>

The reporting laws and rules on Communicable Diseases are ORS 433 and OAR 333; for Elder Abuse refer to ORS 124; and for Child Abuse reporting reference 419b. Copies of the most current version are available at <http://www.oregon.gov/obnm/Pages/ORSOAR.aspx>.

During this exam, you will be given a copy of the current statutes and rules to use during the exam. These will be the only documents allowed for use during this exam. Mandatory reporting documents will not be available but questions may be asked pertaining to your responsibility to report. It is suggested that applicants carefully read ORS 685 and OAR 850, review public health laws and know reportable communicable diseases. Although this is an open book examination, you need to review the statute and rules, and other materials given to you before taking this exam.
