Overview of Services

Scholastic offers high-quality, flexible professional learning services, including courses, instructional coaching, and strategies for educators, administrators, and support staff in Early Literacy, English Language Arts (ELA), and Instructional Leadership. The Scholastic Professional Learning Catalog features a range of solutions to support these areas.

Offerings are available in various formats—virtual, in-person, full-day, half-day, and more—allowing schools to customize plans based on their preferred format, frequency, and focus. With a long-standing history of partnering with schools nationwide, Scholastic supports instructional improvement through evidence-based coaching, consulting, and professional development.

Pricing

Pricing for professional learning and instructional coaching is dependent upon delivery method (virtual or in-person) and duration. Costs range from $999-$3,999 and are inclusive of travel and other expenses.

Alignment to Oregon's Early Literacy Framework

Scholastic Education Solutions professional learning sessions are aligned with Science of Reading models as well as the Five Pillars of Reading. Course descriptions, examples from Participant Guides used during training, as well as professional books written by our authors and researchers provide evidence of the inclusion of research models used within Oregon's Early Literacy Framework.

Evidence of Impact

Through Scholastic-created training and coaching tools, schools can monitor teacher implementation and growth in using research-aligned literacy practices which are known to positively impact student achievement. Examples include observation, walk-through, and self-reflection tools.
