

Two-Way Communication for Families

“ALL ABOUT ME” BOOKS

“All About Me” books provide a way for children and families to share important information about themselves and provide teachers with additional knowledge and insight into their lives. Teachers and families can use this resource to help children within a classroom community celebrate their individuality and learn about similarities and differences amongst one another. The information from these books can help teachers access information that is unique to each child and create a sense of community in the classroom. It is suggested that the teacher complete an “All About Me Book” about themselves to share with families and students.

This resource is for families to develop “All About Me” books with their children. Families can use the resource to communicate their child’s strengths to their child’s teacher.
