Test Administration Monitoring

Per feedback from the US Department of Education Peer Review process, ODE is developing resources in support of local monitoring of test administration.

→ Do you have a local process for monitoring test administration?

If so, ODE would like to learn from you! In the chat, please add all letters that apply:

- A. Our district has a local process and is willing to share documentation. (ODE will follow up.)
- B. Our district has a local process and is open to a short conversation with ODE about how the process is implemented (e.g., how it's changed over time, details specific to your context, etc.).
- C. Our district does not have a process in place but would be interested in participating in a “focus group” conversation about this topic.
