

Cohort Transfers and Outcomes

There were a little over 50,000 students in the 2011-12 cohort enrolled in Oregon schools. Of those, 10.4% transferred into the cohort after their freshman year, and 10.1% transferred out before the end of their senior year.

13.8% were ultimately non-completers, a category which includes all students who did not earn a credential or transfer out, and are no longer enrolled.

Entire 2011-12 Cohort

Rather than leaving prematurely, the majority of non-completers were last enrolled in their fourth year of high school. Nearly 10% of students who were enrolled in their fourth year of high school neither completed nor re-enrolled for a fifth year.

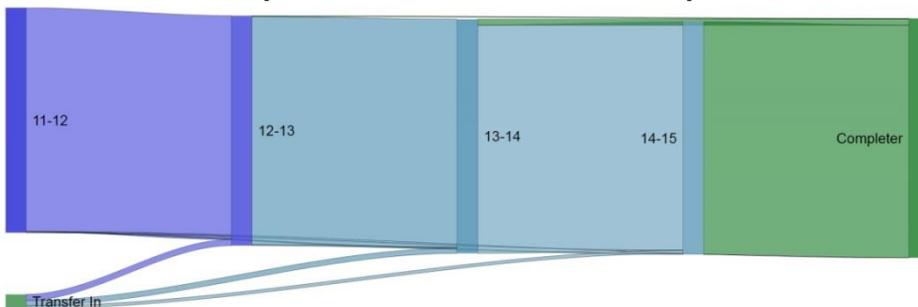

School Year	2011-12	2012-13	2013-14	2014-15
Non-completers, % of all enrolled students	0.9%	1.8%	3.6%	9.6%
% of all non-completers, by school year of last enrollment	6.3%	12.4%	24.0%	57.4%

2011-12 Cohort Non-Completers (Not Continuing Enrollment)

Non-Completers were more likely than completers, and than the cohort as a whole, to have transferred in after their freshman year, or to have a gap of at least one school year in their Oregon high school enrollment.

2011-12 Cohort Completers (Graduates and other Completers)

	Transfer in	School-year gap
All Students	10.4%	1.5%
Completers	6.0%	0.9%
Non-completers	12.8%	3.3%
