

Lessons from the Field:

Serving All Students, Including Students with Disabilities

Inclusion in 21st CCLC: Existing Inclusion Resources

United States Department of Justice

<http://www.ada.gov/>

Information and technical assistance related to the Americans with Disabilities Act.

Child Care Law Center

<http://childcarelaw.org/resource/know-the-law-about-the-americans-with-disabilities-act-and-child-care-2/>

This specific document provides an overview of out-of-school time programs' requirements under the Americans with Disabilities Act.

WrightsLaw

<http://www.wrightsLaw.com/>

Information related to education laws such as the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act (IDEA).

United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization (UNESCO)

<http://en.unesco.org/themes/education-21st-century>

United Nations agency that supports worldwide educational development. One focus area is inclusive education policies and programs to support students with disabilities.

American Youth Policy Forum

<http://www.aypf.org/programareas/afterschoolexpanded-learning/>

The Afterschool/Expanded Learning topic area addresses research, policy and programs in out-of-school time settings.

Search Institute

<http://www.search-institute.org/>

Research organization that publishes practical ideas for supporting youth development in school and out-of-school time settings.

Teaching Tolerance

<http://www.tolerance.org/classroom-resources>

Ability awareness curriculum including lesson plans and activity ideas (note- select the "ability" topic)

Kids Included Together (KIT)

<http://www.kitonline.org>

Teaching organization providing resources on including children and youth with and without disabilities