

ESSA Quick Reference Brief: Title I, Part A

District Set-Asides

The purpose of Title I, Part A is to provide all children significant opportunity to receive a fair, equitable, and high-quality education and help ensure that all children meet challenging academic standards. Title I-A provides financial assistance to districts and schools who serve a larger population of children from families experiencing poverty. By providing additional resources, the program is intended to help close the opportunity gaps and thus the achievement gap that some students experience.

What the Law Says

The Every Student Succeeds Act (ESSA) directs districts that receive Title I, Part A funds to reserve “such funds as are necessary” to provide services to specific groups of students. The share of funds must be based on the total allocation received by the district and be determined prior to any allowable expenditures or transfers by the district.¹

What It Means

Set-asides are funds that are reserved for district-wide activities that support Title I-A schools. These funds are reserved at the district level before funds are allocated to schools. Some set-asides are required; others are optional. Decisions concerning optional set-asides should be made carefully because the reservation of funds will reduce the funds available for distribution to schools. With the exception of students experiencing houselessness or Foster Care, Title I-A funds cannot be used to benefit students in schools that do not receive Title I-A funds.

Required Set-Asides

Before allocating Title I, Part A funds to schools, LEAs must reserve funds for the following required activities:

- Equitable Services for eligible private school students. Districts must reserve a proportional amount to serve students who attend private schools (either inside or outside the district’s boundaries) who would otherwise attend a Title I-A funded school within the district.
- Services for children experiencing houselessness. Districts must reserve funds to provide services to students experiencing houselessness in all district schools. ESSA does not specify an amount,² but the amount should be based on a needs assessment and could include costs for a liaison, transportation for eligible students, and other activities eligible under the McKinney-Vento Homeless Education Act.
- Parent and Family engagement. Districts with Title I-A allocations greater than $500,000 must reserve an amount equal to 1% of the total district allocation and distribute 90% of the reserved 1% to schools receiving Title I-A funds for parent and family engagement activities.³ The remaining 10% (or less) may remain at the district level.

District Set-Asides

Districts with participating private schools that receive more than $500,000 must reserve 1% of the proportional share allocated for equitable services to carry out mandatory Title I-A parent and family engagement activities.⁴

- Services for students without parental supervision. Districts that have within their boundaries a local (not state run) residential facility for students without parental supervision and report this facility in the October caseload count are required to set-aside Title I-A funds to provide services to children in those facilities.⁵ The amount of Title I-A dollars reserved for serving children and youth in this category is a per-child amount.

Optional Set-Asides

While there is no specific limit or amount of money a district can reserve for optional set-asides, Title I-A is a school-based program and the funds are intended to support the schools serving students experiencing poverty. Districts may set-aside funds for the following optional activities:

- Administering the Title I program. Administrative costs may include staffing to administer Title I-A programs and other expenses required to carry out the administration of Title I-A services throughout the district for public and private school children. Funds reserved for this purpose should meet the necessary and reasonable guidelines.⁶
- Salary Equalization. Salary Equalization is designed to take into account school-by-school variations in personnel costs, such as seniority-pay differentials or fringe benefit differentials. It is intended to address situations where similar per-child amounts would result in different levels of service because the salary and benefit costs of Title I-A staff at one school are higher for the equivalent staff at another Title I-A school.
- Extended Time. This set-aside can be used for summer school and/or before and after school programs for students who attend Title I-A schools.
- Professional Development. This set-aside can be used to provide professional learning to teachers in Title I-A schools. In schools implementing a schoolwide program this includes all instructors/staff in the school. In schools implementing a targeted program, this includes instructors/staff working with targeted students.
- Additional Set-Asides. There are number of purposes for which this set-aside can be used:
 - Early Learning - Early learning activities in schools implementing a Title I-A program for children from birth to the age at which the LEA provides a free public elementary education⁷, including full day kindergarten and preschool.

ESSA Quick Reference Brief: Title I, Part A District Set-Asides

- Foster Care – Assist in the provision of services for students experiencing foster care which may include additional costs to transport children to their school of origin.⁸
- Students in Secure Care – Districts that receive Title I-D, Subpart II funds can choose to supplement services to students in locally run facilities or community day programs with this set-aside.

Recommendations for Practice

- Involve families and community members. Districts are required to develop their Title I-A plans with timely and meaningful consultation with teachers, principals and other appropriate school personnel, along with parents and families of children in schools served under Title I-A.⁹ Districts should solicit input on the plan and proposed use of funds including optional set-asides.
- Maintain focus on the result of the needs assessment. Funds reserved for strategies and activities at the district level for optional set-asides should address needs and strategies identified by Title I-A funded schools.
- Consider the impacts. Focus on strategies that will have the greatest impact on improving student achievement.

Questions for Reflection

1. What percentage of the total allocation is reserved at the district level? Is this percentage reasonable?
2. Could the funds being reserved at the district level be used for the same purpose if they were allocated to schools?
3. Are the proposed services/materials/staff paid out of the set-aside identified in the needs assessments of our Title I-A funded schools?
4. How have we engaged with parents, staff and others about the use of set-aside funds to meet district goals? What was the process and who gave feedback?
