

Ginger Kowalko, M.S., is an Educational Consultant currently working with districts to implement research-based systems to improve students' reading outcomes. A national presenter, she most recently served as Director of Special Services for Bethel School District in Eugene, Oregon, and spent 30 years in public education as a special education teacher, pre-service trainer/supervisor, and elementary school principal. Ginger is co-author, with Lori Rae Smith and Mary M. Gleason, of the ACCESS* Toolkit (*Academic Content Competence: Every Student Succeeding).