This Youth Reading List was drafted by the Oregon Department of Education in conjunction with the Confederated Tribes of Grand Ronde Library, representatives from the nine federally recognized tribes of Oregon, and several educators across Oregon as a learning resource to provide a robust background for educators and students on the Native American experience in Oregon. It is a living document and the Oregon Department of Education reserves the right to revise as necessary as resources are suggested for addition or deletion. The inclusion of resources on this list should not be viewed as an endorsement by the Oregon Department of Education. The selection of the reading resources is left to the discretion of each educator and/or student. It is highly recommended that educators preview the resource prior to using it in the classroom. Please notify the Oregon Department of Education Office of Indian Education if you find a resource on this list that you find inappropriate for classroom use.
