

SUICIDE PREVENTION

It's Everyone's Responsibility!

What are your district's suicide prevention protocols?

Adi's Act Plan

All school staff should be aware of and familiar with their school district's Suicide Prevention Plan. This plan should be posted to the district's website.

Which prevention trainings should school staff take?

Trainings

Best practice is that all school staff are trained in Question, Persuade, Refer (QPR) yearly. Other staff should attend additional trainings based on their specific role.

How is your school creating belonging amongst students?

Belonging

Inclusive school environments, where students are connected to each other and school staff, is a strong protective factor, especially for students at high risk for suicide.

How are you engaging your students and community?

Resources

Schools should regularly engage their community with culturally and linguistically responsive resources including 988, SafeOregon, and YouthLine.
