Deferred Action for Childhood Arrivals (DACA)
What is DACA?

- The Deferred Action for Childhood Arrivals (DACA) is a policy in which the U.S. Department of Homeland Security (DHS) would no longer be able to deport certain undocumented young people. Under DACA, these individuals would:

  ○ Become eligible for a work permit, which is valid for two years;
  ○ Gain temporary permission to remain in the United States;
  ○ Have the opportunity to renew their work permit.

- In consequence, DACA:

  ○ Has been incredibly successful in terms of temporarily protecting individuals from deportation;
  ○ Has allowed the opportunity to 700,000 young people to work legally in the USA.
What is DACA NOT?
What is not DACA?

- DACA is NOT a pathway to citizenship. DACA is only a temporary fix.
- Advocates argue that this temporary fix is NOT enough.
- DACA was not meant to be a permanent policy.
- DACA does not provide a path to Permanent Residency.
DACA SCOTUS DECISION

JUNE 18, 2020
SCOTUS ruled DACA is lawful and the administration did not provide sufficient reason to rescind it, making the rescission “arbitrary and capricious.”

○ This means DACA is reinstated and possibly new applications have to be accepted again.

○ The Trump administration still has authority to rescind DACA again and will likely do so as soon as possible, just more carefully with reasons in keeping with the Court’s ruling.

- Waiting for USCIS to release process for new applications.
- People who already have DACA may apply to renew it.
- RENEW, RENEW, RENEW!
Facts on DACA -

- In Oregon, DACA has allowed nearly 11,300 young people to come forward, pass background checks, and live and work legally in the country.
- Nearly $2 billion is contributed by Dreamers to Social Security annually.
- Nearly $470 million is paid into Medicare by Dreamers every year.
- Up to $1 trillion added to the U.S. GDP over a decade if permanent protections for Dreamers are passed.
- 96% of Dreamers are either working or in school.
- 60% of Dreamers have purchased a vehicle.
- 14% of Dreamers have purchased their own home, and they pay an estimated $380 million in property taxes every year.

What Is still at Stake?

- It is estimated that DACA recipients are:
  - 43,500 healthcare workers.
  - 21,100 operate in transportation and warehousing.
  - 32,800 are employed in retail trade.
  - 14,500 work in the manufacturing sector.
  - 13,300 work in support and waste management services.

Members of Congress who Vocalized Support

Statement from U.S. Representative Earl Blumenauer:

“Today’s Supreme Court decision on DACA stated that Trump and his administration acted in bad faith, which is not much of a surprise. While this verdict is a good thing, we must stay focused on what is important - true and comprehensive immigration reform that respects human dignity and allows for a pathway to citizenship.”

Statement from U.S. Representative Kurt Schrader:

“Today’s Supreme Court decision is a huge win for our Dreamers. These young folks contribute so much to our economy and communities and now they have certainty in their lives for the first time in years. I am celebrating alongside Dreamers and their families today. However, there is more to be done. I urge the Senate to take up the bipartisan American Dream and Promise Act that has already passed the House to permanently solidify their status.”
Request Support for Undocumented Students and their Families such as:

4. Demand and support local campaigns demanding that city, county or state officials create sanctuary policies to keep residents safe.
5. Join the Home is Here Oregon Coalition for the support and advocacy of Dreamers, TPS Recipients and the immigrant community after a scotus decision.

COVID-19: Impact on our Communities

COVID-19 has had an impact on all of us, but especially immigrants and refugees. The HEROES Act take these individuals into account and includes

- Provide free COVID-19 testing, treatment, and services for ALL, regardless of immigration status.
- Cash payments and expanded Unemployment Insurance must go to all people, including immigrants who pay taxes using an ITIN (Individual Tax Identification Number).
- Automatically extend work permits for DACA recipients & TPS holders to ensure people have stability and the ability to stay safe.
- End policies and practices that increase fear among immigrants and prevent them from accessing treatment or services, including the public charge rule and enforcement.
- Invest more funds in emergency child care relief for families and care workers.
