SUMMARY

The Oregon Forest Resources Institute (OFRI) last reported to the Board of Forestry in January 2024, providing the Board an overview of OFRI's Vision, Mission, and Goals. In this Board agenda item, OFRI will present the results of the most recent Values and Beliefs survey.

CONTEXT

The Oregon Forest Resources Institute (OFRI) supports the forest sector and the stewardship of natural resources by advancing Oregonians' understanding of the social, environmental, and economic benefits of Oregon's forests. OFRI partners with more than 100 organizations (including ODF) and individuals on their educational programs, publications, and videos, including state and federal agencies, conservation groups, private businesses, nonprofit organizations, universities, and schools.
