

The bottom line

Public investment is critical:

- To protect forests from fire
- To keep forests healthy and working
- To manage our state-owned forests for many benefits
- To help restore federal forests