Fast Facts for 2012

Child Protective Services

- 67,633* reports of abuse and neglect were received.
- 29,447* reports were referred for investigation. During the FFY, 22,582* assessments were completed.
- 6,332 of the total reports referred were founded for abuse or neglect involving 10,054 victims.
- 48.5 percent of victims were younger than 6 years old.
- Threat of harm was the largest type of maltreatment incident experienced by victims or (45.2 percent of incidents), followed by neglect incidents (39.7 percent of incidents).
 - * Original published numbers have been corrected and/or updated in fast facts above.

Family Services

- At 44.2 percent, alcohol and drug issues represented the largest single family stress factor when child abuse/neglect was present.
- The next most common stressors were domestic violence (33.9 percent) and family financial distress (25.0 percent).
- During FFY (federal fiscal year) 2012, a total of 7,532 children were served in their homes, exclusive of children in post-substitute care who were on a trial home visit.
- 40.5 percent of children served with an in-home case during the year received services beyond case-management and safety assessment services while being served in-home.

Foster Care

- 12,385 children spent at least one day in some kind of foster care with an average of 8,524 children on a daily basis.
- 6,239 children were in family foster care on an average daily basis, with 30 percent placed with relatives.

- Of the total children served in foster care, 66.5 percent were Caucasian, 3.8 percent were Native American, 14.8 percent were Hispanic, 6.8 percent were African American, 1.1 percent were Asian or Pacific Islander and 7.0 percent did not have race recorded.
- 64.3 percent of children in care on September 30, 2012, had two or fewer placements.
- 453 foster children were in either professional shelter programs or residential treatment settings on an average daily basis.
- 1,485 youth received independent living program services.
- 58.1 percent of children leaving foster care were reunited with their families.

Adoption & Guardianship Program

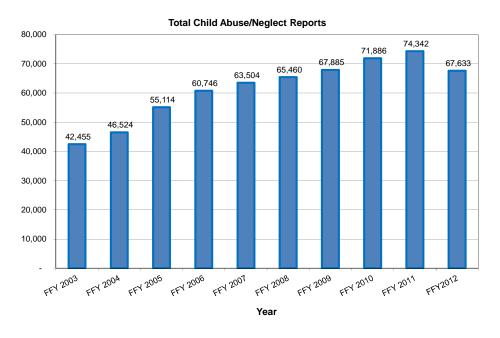

- 667 children had adoptions finalized, with 19.3 percent of those children belonging to ethnic minorities.
- 93.8 percent of children who were adopted during the year and had siblings also adopted during the year were adopted by the same family as one or more of their siblings.
- 273 children exited foster care to a guardianship.

Abuse/Neglect Reports and Investigations

The information in this portion of the Child Welfare Data Book comes from the new Oregon SACWIS (State Automated Child Welfare Information System). There are changes in the content of this section due to data conversion issues and changes in reference values. This may impact the inclusion of, or comparability to, data reported in prior years.

During FFY 2012 DHS received 67,633* reports of suspected child abuse or neglect, a decrease of 9.4* percent from the prior year. Of those, 29,447* reports were referred for investigation.

^{*} Original published numbers have been corrected or updated in the chart and narrative above.

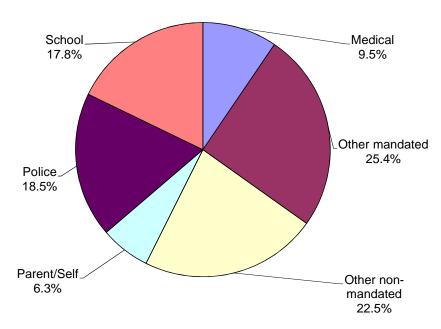

Of the total reports referred, 6,332 (20.5 percent) were founded for abuse or neglect. The 6,332 founded referrals represent 9.2 percent of the total abuse and neglect reports received. Once there is a founded referral, children are considered victims of child abuse/neglect.

Reporters of Child Abuse/Neglect

During FFY 2012:

- Public and private officials required by law to report suspected child abuse and neglect made 71.2 percent of the reports of abuse and neglect received by DHS.
- Of all reports, 36.3 percent came from schools and law enforcement agencies.

Source of Child Abuse/Neglect Reports

Response Time for Investigations

The response time for a worker to make contact is determined by the information collected from the reporter about access the alleged perpetrator has to the child. There are two types of response times — "within 24 hours" and "within 5 days." Nearly three-quarters of investigations (73.3 percent) were assigned a response time of "within 24 hours."

Victims of Abuse and Neglect

There were 10,054 unduplicated child abuse/neglect victims in FFY 2012. Due to the transition to the new case management system, some children who were victimized in 2012 will show up in 2013.

For FFY 2012 most child victims remained in their own homes (74.0 percent), while 26.0 percent of child victims were removed from their homes.

Of the total victims, 10.7 percent remained home with an in-home safety plan and 63.3 percent remained in their homes but the department determined that is was not necessary to open a case to keep the child(ren) safe.

The following data show the key demographics of children who were victims of child abuse/neglect during FFY 2012.

Types of Abuse and Neglect Incidents

Each type of maltreatment experienced by a victim in a founded referral counts as an incident of child abuse/neglect. The number of incidents is larger than the number of victims because victims may have suffered more than one type of maltreatment or may have been involved in more than one founded referral. The total number of incidents of child abuse/neglect decreased by 11.6 percent between FFY 2011 and FFY 2012.

Threat of Harm is the largest category of child abuse/neglect at 45.2 percent, followed by neglect, at 39.7 percent of all incidents of abuse/neglect.

All types of abuse decreased with the exception of neglect.

Fatalities Related to Familial Child Abuse and Neglect

There were seventeen children who died from causes related to familial/caregiver abuse and/or neglect during FFY 2012.

13 fatalities had at least one parent as a perpetrator. The relationship of the perpetrator(s) to the child:

- o The mother alone was the perpetrator in one fatality
- o The father alone was the perpetrator in six fatalities
- o The mother and father were the perpetrators in three fatalities
- o The mother and step-parent were the perpetrators in one fatality
- The mother and live-in-companion were the perpetrators in one fatality
- A step-parent alone was the perpetrator in one fatality
- o Relatives were the perpetrators in two fatalities
- Non-relative, non-caregivers were the perpetrators in two fatalities
- Twelve victims (70.6 percent) were age 5 and younger, demonstrating the vulnerability of this age group. Five victims were younger than one year old.
- No child had an open child welfare case at the time of the injury that resulted in the fatality. No child was in the Department's custody at the time of death.
- There were two children who were the subject of a child abuse/neglect referral within one year of the date of death.
- No child's family received family preservation services in the five years preceding the fatality.
- No child had been reunited with the parent or principal caregiver in the previous five years.
- Six fatalities were the result of neglect. Eight fatalities were caused by abuse. Three fatalities were caused by both abuse and neglect.

Problems facing families

The information in this portion of the Child Welfare Data Book comes from the new Oregon SACWIS (State Automated Child Welfare Information System). There are changes in the content of this section due to data conversion issues and changes in reference values. This may impact the inclusion of, or comparability to, data reported in prior years. The current data represents federal fiscal year (FFY) 2012, which goes from October 1, 2011 through September 30, 2012.

The major problems facing families of abused and neglected children are drug and/or alcohol abuse, domestic violence, and family financial distress. Many families also have significant law enforcement involvement or unemployment issues. Some parents may have mental illness or were abused as children. There usually are several stress factors in families of child abuse/neglect victims.

Preserving families

When it is safe, the victim of child abuse or neglect remains in the home. Child safety plans are developed for these families. On September 30, 2012 a total of 2,110 children were being served in their homes, exclusive of children post-substitute care that were on a trial home visit. Note that system changes limit comparability to historically reported data for children served in-home. The following data show the key demographics of children being served at home on September 30, 2012.

During FFY 2012, a total of 7,532 children were served in their homes, either before or after any foster care experience. All children served in-home receive case management and safety assessment services. In addition, just over 3,000 children (3,056 or 40.5 percent) receive other services. The main service is the In-Home Safety and Reunification Service. In-home Safety and Reunification Services are designed to strengthen families and increase a parent's ability to protect their child, and are intended to prevent foster care placement. If a child cannot remain safely at home, he or she is placed in foster care and the family receives services to assist them in making changes that will allow their child to safely return home. Other services children and their families received included: Parent Training and Education, Counseling and Therapeutic Services, Basic needs and Transportation Assistance.

Foster Care

Foster children range in age from birth to 18 (up to age 21 for some children) and come from many backgrounds and types of families. Many children needing foster care have been neglected or emotionally, physically or sexually abused. As a result, they may have emotional, behavioral, mental or physical problems that require special services.

In prior years, children served by tribal governments were reported in the statewide numbers for the foster care program, when those children were eligible for Title IV-E federal funds. Data for these children have been removed; therefore data prior to 2009 may differ from previously reported data.

The current data represents federal fiscal year (FFY) 2012, which goes from October 1, 2011 through September 30, 2012.

Entering foster care

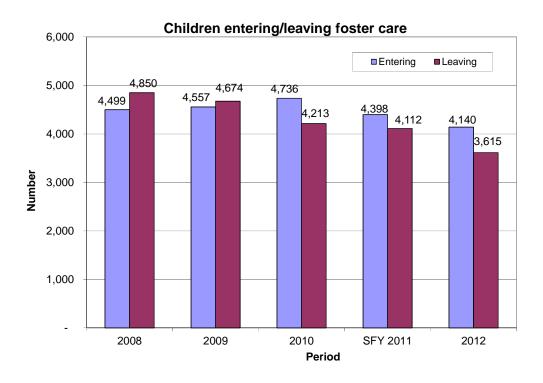

Children who cannot remain safely at home enter foster care for various reasons. These children most often enter foster care as a result of their parents' actions and not as a result of the child's behavior. During FFY 2012, 7.9 percent of children who entered foster care had four or more reasons for removal from their homes.

The number of children entering foster care during FFY 2012 declined by 5.9 percent from the SFY 2011 level. The number of children leaving foster care has decreased by 12.1 percent in the same time frame. The result is a net decrease in Foster Care.

A total of 557 children (or 15.4 percent of all exits) left foster care and custody within three months of entry. The median length of time in care for a child who exits is 17.3 months, up from the SFY 2011 median time in care of 15.2 months (13.7 percent increase). For children who reunify with parents, this includes up to six months on a trial home visit.

Children served in foster care

During FFY 2012, 12,385 children spent at least one day in some kind of foster care. Of those, 89.9 percent (11,138 children) were served in a family foster care setting. The following data show the key demographics of children served in foster care during FFY 2012.

In the 1970's, Congress enacted the Indian Child Welfare Act (ICWA) in response to a national crisis in which an alarmingly high percentage of Native American children were being removed from their families and tribal communities. ICWA assigns an enhanced responsibility to states to make "active efforts" to prevent removal of tribal children from their families.

Family and sibling connections

DHS helps maintain connections for children placed in foster care by working to place them in their home communities, with relatives, and by placing siblings together in out-of-home care.

There were 8,770 children in foster care as of September 30, 2012, the last day of the Federal fiscal year. At that time, 6,935 children were in family foster care (a family-home setting). Of those in family foster care, 37.9 percent (2,627 children) were with relatives. The other settings for children in foster care include those in residential treatment, trial home visits and pre-adoptive settings.

As of the last day of FFY 2012, there were 4,369 children in out-of-home foster care who were part of a sibling group. Of these children, 3,612 (82.7 percent) were placed with the same family as one or more of their siblings. The percent of children with siblings being placed with siblings is down 2 percentage points from those in care a year earlier, when 84.7 percent of children were placed with siblings.

Stability while in foster care

For children in care as of September 30, 2012, 64.3 percent had two or fewer placements. This is an improvement over 2011 where 63.5 percent of children had two or fewer placements.

Behavioral rehabilitation services

Behavioral rehabilitation services (BRS) is a higher level of care that provides the skill development necessary for children with debilitating emotional and behavioral challenges to return home or move to a less intensive level of care and to ultimately achieve permanence.

More than 450 foster children per day receive these important services, including behavioral intervention, counseling and skill-building services in professional assessment and stabilization facilities, therapeutic foster care, and residential placement models. These service programs are administered through contracts with licensed, private child-caring agencies.

On any given day during FFY 2012, BRS helped:

- 253 children in professional shelter programs, and
- 200 children in residential treatment settings.

Psychiatric residential treatment

Children in the state's custody whose mental health needs exceed or differ from the level or type of services provided by the BRS system may be served within the mental health services system in psychiatric residential placements or other mental health supported placements.

On any given day 82 foster children are served in psychiatric residential treatment settings. These children are directly served by the Oregon Health Authority Addictions and Mental Health Services.

Teenagers in foster care

Oregon Revised Statutes allow for children to remain in out-of-home care placement beyond the age of 18, and with a court order up to age 21.

During FFY 2012:

- Teens comprised 30.2 percent of the foster care population.
- A total of 3,742 teens spent at least one day in foster care.

- Teens exiting foster care were reunited with their families 38.7 percent of the time.
- 278 current and former foster care youth received scholarships for higher education for the 2012-2013 school year through a federal grant awarded to DHS and implemented with the assistance of the Oregon Student Access Commission.

Independent living programs

Foster care youths are eligible for Independent Living Program (ILP) services. ILP services are provided by 19 contracted community-based partners throughout the state. The number of youths receiving ILP services declined from 1,565 in SFY 2011 to 1,485 in FFY 2012, a decrease of 5.1 percent.

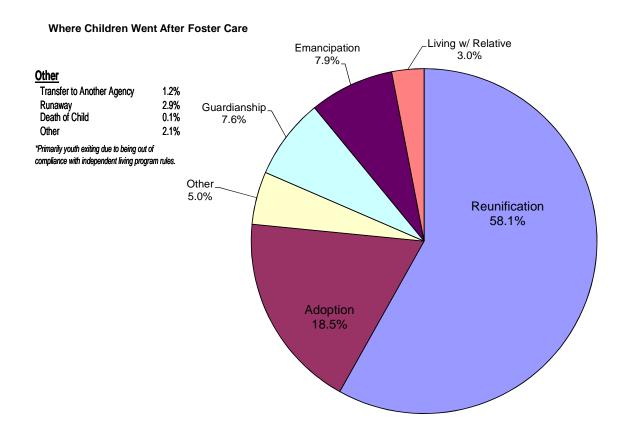

ILP services help youths in foster care:

- Make the transition to self-sufficiency as adults;
- Receive the education, training and services necessary to obtain employment;
- Attain academic and/or vocational education and prepare for post-secondary training and education; and
- Obtain personal and emotional support and promote healthy interactions with dedicated adults.

Exiting foster care

Most children leaving foster care are reunified with their parents. But for other children, a plan to reunify them with their parents does not occur for many reasons. These children who exit foster care may move on to various other living arrangements and permanent plans, such as adoption, guardianship or permanent relative care.

During FFY 2012, 58.1 percent of children who left foster care were reunified with their families. If a child cannot return home, the law requires that an alternative permanency plan quickly be put into place.

Adoption and Guardianship Program

The DHS Adoption Program facilitates selection and finalization of adoption and guardianship as the preferred permanency options for foster children when it is no longer in their best interest to return to the care of their biological parents. DHS also facilitates finalization for Oregon children who are the subject of Oregon private adoptions.

Adoptions

Adoption finalizations

DHS finalized adoptions for 667 children in FFY 2012. This figure is 8.8 percent lower than in SFY 2011.

Special needs and adoption assistance

Almost all of the children adopted during FFY 2012 had one or more special needs (626 children or 94.0 percent) and received some sort of adoption assistance. Adoption assistance can include an agreement to open a subsidy alone, a medical card alone, or a medical card and a subsidy payment together, or an agreement to open a subsidy or medical coverage in the future should the child's needs change.

Preserving connections

DHS places a high value on preserving and promoting relationships between siblings and placing them together in the same adoptive family whenever it is safe and possible to do so. In FFY 2012, 357 children who were adopted had siblings also adopted during the year. Of these children, 335 (93.8 percent) were adopted by the same family as one or more of their siblings.

Timeliness of finalization

A primary goal of federal and state governments is to establish permanency for a child as soon as possible. The federal government has established parameters that guide states in this effort, which includes establishing a national standard for the median length of time to achieve a timely adoption. Achieving timely adoptions continues to present challenges for Oregon. While the length of time to achieve adoption varies, the median time to adoption was 34.0 months for children whose adoptions were finalized in FFY 2012. This represents an increase in the median months to adoption from the SFY 2011 level of 33.9 months.

Careful processes help ensure adoptions will be successful. Statistics show 96.8 percent of Oregon's adoptive placements continued to finalization without disruption in FFY 2012.

Recruitment

During FFY 2012 a total of 471 families adopted children, with 89.6 percent of those families recruited by DHS.

- 422 Oregon families recruited by DHS adopted 583 children.
- 24 families recruited by Private adoption agencies (In/Out of State) adopted 40 children (5.1 percent).
- 20 families recruited by out-of-state public agencies adopted 35 children (4.2 percent).
- 5 families recruited by other placing agencies adopted 9 children (1.1 percent).

In total, the families recruited by entities other than Oregon DHS found homes for 84 children.

Guardianship

When a child cannot be returned home and adoption is not in the child's best interests, then guardianship is considered to be a more permanent plan for a child than long-term foster care since guardians have permanent legal custody of the child.

Guardianship completion

During FFY 2012 a total of 273 children exited to a guardianship, up 25.8 percent from 217 children in SFY 2011. The majority of children go to guardianship with relatives.

Special needs and guardianship assistance

Children who go to guardianship have the same assistance available to them as adopted children to help sustain their placement. With respect to their background of child abuse/neglect and special emotional, medical, and physical needs these children are statistically the same as adopted children.
