| A specific staff was substantiated for Wrongful Restraint by dragging a youth by the arm and leg to the youth's room when the youth was being non-compliant. The youth was not a reasonable risk of imminent serious bodily injury to self or others, the action was not an approved physical restraint and was done for the convenience of the staff. | The identified employee was placed on administrative leave when Trillium was notified that the report of wrongful restraint had been substantiated, and her employment was subsequently terminated. |
