SECTION 2. PROGRAM AND POSITION INFORMATION

a. Describe the program in which this position exists. Include program purpose, who is affected, size, and scope. Include relationship to agency mission.

The Oregon Department of Transportation exercises leadership and vision in promoting, developing and managing a statewide network of transportation systems and facilities. These systems and facilities provide access to Oregon for the State's citizens and visitors, provides efficient movement of commerce, goods and services, ensures the safety of transportation systems users, and enhances Oregon's competitive position in national and international markets. ODOT is a geographically-spread organization of approximately 4500 FTE with a $3.8 billion biennial budget.

The Urban Mobility Office (UMO) delivers the design, development, and implementation of complex multi-modal transportation mega projects and systems for the most densely populated and fastest growing geographical region in the state. The office includes the Comprehensive Congestion Management and Mobility Plan (CCMMP), which outlines priority projects that collectively improve urban mobility across the Portland Metro region with tolling as an essential funding strategy. The UMO's public affairs, economic equity, mega project delivery and toll programs support this work. In addition, the office includes a large consultant staff, potentially numbered in the hundreds, to successfully deliver the largest and most complex infrastructure projects and initiatives in the state.

b. Describe the primary purpose of this position, and how it functions within this program. Complete this statement. The primary purpose of this position is to:

The I-5 Rose Quarter Improvement Project adds auxiliary lanes and shoulders to reduce congestion and improve safety on the main north-south freeway on the west coast and redesigns the multimodal local street network. The project will smooth traffic flow on I-5 between I-84 and I-405 where three interstates intersect and feature the biggest traffic bottleneck in Oregon. The project also will improve community connections by redesigning overpasses and reconnecting neighborhood streets, enhancing public spaces, and promoting economic development opportunities. The project's transportation improvements allow the City to implement the development goals for the N/NE area and realize the City's Central City 2035 Plan.

The Rose Quarter Public Outreach and Media Manager is responsible for developing new methods and approaches in planning, integrating and evaluating the Rose Quarter public affairs program. This includes directing and managing the media coordination and community outreach to diverse stakeholders and for implementing an inclusive and broad engagement process for the I-5 Rose Quarter Improvement Project during the planning/environmental, design and construction phases.

As a member of the project's delivery team, they counsel Project and UMO leadership on public engagement and communications strategies. The Public Outreach and Media Manager plans and is responsible for implementation, oversight, and outcomes for outreach and communications efforts. The Public Outreach and Media Manager directs the work of the Project's public involvement and communications consultants, provides direction, manages strategic communications planning, ensures a quality work product, and is the liaison between UMO staff and stakeholders for these areas. They collaborate with the project team and UMO leadership on ways to achieve project goals and objectives.

The Public Outreach and Media Manager works closely with the UMO Communications Director, Rose Quarter Public Involvement and Communications Manager, ODOT Region 1 Community Affairs Manager, Public Information Officer, and Government Liaison, as well as ODOT State Communications staff to ensure consistent messaging, project coordination, and compliance with protocols and policies.

SECTION 3. DESCRIPTION OF DUTIES

SECTION 7. POSITION RELATED DECISION MAKING

a) Describe the typical decisions of this position.

This position develops new methods and approaches in planning, integrating and evaluating the public affairs program for a large division. Employees recommend action on significant policy matters which lead to the development of an agency position, establish precedents or provide guidance for field activities on public affairs issues. Employees oversee the full scope of public affairs work including planning and implementing communication plans. This work includes analyzing and planning communications strategy, identifying communication issues and solving complex communications problems.

Good judgement pertaining to what information is acceptable to share, when and with whom is required and must be determined by weighing what is in the best interest of ODOT and the Urban Mobility Office. The incumbent in this position will decide how and when to communicate information relating primarily to the Toll Program to stakeholders and the media.

Incumbent must make decisions regarding allocation of project and consultant resources in addition to prioritization of highly complex and sensitive work. These decisions affect the timing, staffing, and funding of the Project. The incumbent must interpret and act upon legislative requirements, FHWA rules, and other laws and guidelines related to the project. They make decisions as part of the contracting process affecting staffing, consultants, projects and budget controls. Decisions related to ongoing support and communication needs of internal and external stakeholders, as well as legislators and other jurisdictions are made by the incumbent. They assign work, develop work procedures, provide direction to consultant teams, review project work, accept consultant deliverables, and ensure the highest standard of quality.

Major strategic decisions are made which significantly affect the success of meeting legislative mandates, allocating funding, and meeting key milestones in State and Region business plans. Day to day, high level decisions are made on issues relating to special initiatives, intergovernmental strategies, schedules, budgets and problem resolution.

b) Explain the direct effect of these decisions.

It is imperative that decisions avoid negative impact on the public, employee grievances, our ability to meet legislative timeframes, and our ability to accomplish organizational mission and goals. Decisions leading to inaccurate analyses, communications issues, and cost/workload forecasts can adversely affect meeting requirements in legislation, credibility with the legislature and other key external stakeholders.
