Question				Answer
Does the TSA trucking services amount go against % subcontracted?				TSA trucking services amount doesn't go against % subcontracted.
When is a supplier required to pay prevailing wage?				When placing materials to remain as a part of construction and on-site more than de minimus time.
What's the difference between a "broker" and a "carrier"?				A broker is an intermediary between a shipper/supplier who has goods to transport and a carrier who has capacity to move that freight. A subcontract is required to hire a broker. Sub-tier TSA's are required between the broker and individual carriers.
Are subcontracts or TSAs required for material suppliers?				Unless a committed DBE, material delivery by, for, or from a supplier does not require a subcontract or TSA (regardless of who employs the truck).
When can rental of operated equipment be utilized?				Must be minor, incidental, short duration work. If a bid item exists, a subcontract is required. Tack and water require subcontracts.
What types of trucking services are covered by a TSA?				Material hauled by dump trucks (end, belly, side) generally qualify for use with a TSA. Other material delivery vehicles, e.g., tankers, mixers, cad trucks, flatbeds, etc. don't qualify for a TSA and, unless they are considered a supplier, must be covered by a subcontract. Delivery of materials by or for or from a supplier does not require a TSA or a subcontract.

* Note: Owner/Operator on payroll - no hours/no dollars

 Certified DBE/MWESB's may be exempt from filing a public works bond for up to 4 years
