Use these instructions to title and/or register your tow/recovery vehicle that has a combined weight of 26,000 pounds or less, and apply for a tow business certificate. Combined weight is the empty weight of all vehicles in a combination plus the total weight of the load carried on that combination of vehicles.

Provide the following to DMV:

- A completed Application for Title and Registration;
  - Instead of printing this application, you can start your application online at DMV2U if you plan to go to a DMV office within 30 days.
- The original ownership document;
- The original odometer disclosure, if required;
- Original releases or bills of sale from all previous owners;
- Original lien releases from any previous security interest holders;
- A vehicle identification number (VIN) inspection for $7, if required;
- A completed Application for Tow or Recovery Vehicle Business Certificate;
- If the odometer has 7,500 miles or less and you bought it from an out-of-state dealer, you may need a Use Tax Certificate from the Oregon Department of Revenue;
- A valid Certificate of Liability Insurance; and
  - Coverage for $50,000 cargo and $750,000 liability per accident.
- All applicable fees:
  - Title fee;
  - Registration/Certificate fee; and
  - $24.50 plate fee.

Submit the documents and payment to DMV.
