I-84: Graham Road Bridges

The Oregon Department of Transportation is planning to replace two Interstate 84 bridges over Graham Road in Troutdale. The project will also widen Graham Road to three lanes, provide increased vertical clearance for trucks, and improve access for people who walk or ride bikes under the bridges by adding a new sidewalk and bike lane. See inside for more details.

Open House on May 30, 5:30 - 7:30 p.m.

I-84: Graham Road Bridges

The Oregon Department of Transportation is planning to replace two Interstate 84 bridges over Graham Road in Troutdale. The project will also widen Graham Road to three lanes, provide increased vertical clearance for trucks, and improve access for people who walk or ride bikes under the bridges by adding a new sidewalk and bike lane.

When will construction start?

Construction is expected to begin in spring 2019, and will take up to two years to complete.

Will there be road closures?

Yes. Replacing the bridges and widening will require periodic closures and detours on Graham Road that will impact vehicles, cyclists, and pedestrians. ODOT will provide advance notice about closures and impacts to travelers and adjacent businesses.

Why is the project needed?

- I-84 bridges over Graham Road are aging and the bridge surfaces are deteriorating.
- The vertical clearance under the bridges is only 13.5 feet, which is too short to safely accommodate the passage of large trucks and oversized vehicles.
- Where Graham Road passes under I-84, there are narrow shoulders and no designated pedestrian sidewalks.
- The existing two lanes on Graham Road under the bridges are not wide enough to accommodate the increase in northbound traffic, generated by new industrial development north of I-84.
