

Slido at Oregon Prepared

What is Slido?

Slido (pronounced Sly-doe) is an audience interaction platform. It will help Oregon Prepared Strategic Planning Workshop organizers get the most out of the session by crowdsourcing top questions and engaging feedback using live polls.

How do I use it?

Simply click this link and enter participant code #1755298

I accessed the link, now what?

Cast your vote in the polls, participate in the word cloud, and submit your questions for the Panel Q&A session hosted at the end of the session.

Word Clouds

A word cloud is a visual representation of words or phrases. The greater the number of times a word or phrase is entered by participants, the larger the word or phrase appears in the graphic. This gives insight into the topics that matter most to you.

The Strategic Planning Workshop has made three word clouds available in Slido:

1. When you think about the Oregon Department of Emergency Management's mission, what is most important to you?
2. When you think about the Oregon Department of Emergency Management's vision, what is most important to you?
3. When you think about the Oregon Department of Emergency Management's core values, what is most important to you?

The IDEA Workshop has two word clouds available in Slido:

1. What is your Job Title (eg Emergency Manager, Community Organizer, etc.)
2. What words or phrases come to mind when you think about inclusion, diversity, equity, and accessibility in emergency management?

Multiple Choice

The IDEA Workshop has one multiple choice question seeking audience feedback on our agency's IDEA planning:

1. Which of our agency's IDEA strategies do you feel is the most urgent? Please select all that apply.
 - a. Create and sustain an internal culture at ODEM that prioritizes inclusion, diversity, equity and accessibility.
 - b. Identify and eliminate obstacles to recruiting and retaining diverse talent, incorporating meaningful support structures and professional development opportunities to ensure equitable career advancement and a sense of belonging.

- c. Seek out and eradicate barriers to equitable community input in all phases of the disaster cycle by building upon existing partnerships and identify new pathways for community collaboration.
- d. Develop new structures for procurement and business practices that prioritize equity in vendor selection.
- e. Build in equity as a fundamental element of budget decision making processes, with special attention to the ways in which distributive, procedural, systemic, and recognition equity can inform resource allocation decisions.

Polls

Polls present a question followed by a series of potential responses. Your answers provide insight into what strategies are priorities for the work you do. The IDEA Workshop has one ranking poll:

1. Rank the following 4 IDEA objectives (in order of importance) to eliminate obstacles hindering equitable community engagement, particularly among those disproportionately vulnerable during disasters or emergencies. Drag the four objectives to reflect top priority first and least priority last:
 - a. Continuously seek external funding sources for compensating members of CBOs for their time and expertise in informing agency strategies and outreach efforts.
 - b. Renew ODEM's commitment to Diversity Emergency Management Advisory Committee (DEM^{AC}), a cross-disability council that works toward equity in emergency management.
 - c. Amend the role of agency regional coordinators to more directly inform agency wide initiatives and elevate local concerns to leadership in a more responsive manner.
 - d. Ensure that the agency's Tribal Liaison has a standing presence in leadership meetings, and dedicated time to update Director and Deputy Director on important issues related to Tribal engagement.

Question and Answer Panel

This interactive session will allow attendees to enter questions to be answered by members of the Oregon Department of Emergency Management's Executive Leadership Team. Questions can be entered by any attendee at any time during the conference. Like a question asked by someone else? Click the like button to upvote the question and move it to the top of the queue.
