FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

Question 1: Can healthcare professional hotline expenses be included in the MLR Calculation Report?

Answer: Expenses for healthcare professional hotlines should be excluded to the extent they do not meet the criteria for Line 20: Activities that Improve Health Care Quality as defined in the previous section.

Question 2: Can expenses for Prospective Utilization Review be included in the MLR Calculation Report?

Answer: Expenses for prospective Utilization Review should be excluded to the extent they do not meet the criteria for Line 20: Activities that Improve Health Care Quality as defined in the previous section; AND the prospective utilization review activities are not conducted in accordance with a program that has been accredited by a recognized accreditation body.

Question 2: Should medical incentive pools and bonuses reported on Lines 15 and 16 Incurred Medical Incentive Pools and Bonuses, other than payments to participating providers aligned with Quality Pool, be reported on a cash or an accrual basis?

Answer: Medical incentive pools and bonuses reported on Lines 15 and 16 Incurred Medical Incentive Pools and Bonuses, other than payments to participating providers aligned with Quality Pool, should be reported on an accrual basis, consistent with Exhibit L templates and audited financials.

Question 3: Can you clarify as to whether or not Line 23 Total Non-Claims Costs should include any reconciling items to tie to audited financials, such as administrative load or provider losses excluded from reported sub-capitated arrangements?

Answer: This is correct. Total Non-Claims Costs reported on Line 23 is a reconciling line to the audited financials and Exhibit L. Common examples of reconciling items included on this line are administrative costs incurred, underwriting gains allowed to the sub-capitated provider or vendor, premium deficiency reserve (PDR), differences due to reporting of Quality Pool revenues and expenses on a cash basis on MLR Calculation Report vs. an accrual basis in audited financials and Exhibit L.
