Kettle Merger Sub, Inc. is a direct wholly owned subsidiary of Kroger and will merge with and into Albertsons, as described in more detail below. Kettle Merger Sub, Inc. is a newly formed entity with no current operations or revenues. The mailing address for Kettle Merger Sub, Inc. is 1014 Vine Street, Cincinnati, Ohio 45202. There is no federal tax ID number for Kettle Merger Sub, Inc.

6. Briefly describe the nature and objectives of the proposed material change transaction, including any changes in ownership, governance, or operational structure, any exchange of funds between the parties (such as any arrangement in which one party agrees to furnish the other party with a discount, rebate, or any other type of refund or remuneration in exchange for, or in any way related to, the provision of health care services).

On October 13, 2022, Kroger, Albertsons, and Kettle Merger Sub, Inc. (“Merger Sub”), a direct, wholly owned subsidiary of Kroger, entered into an Agreement and Plan of Merger (the “Agreement”), pursuant to which Merger Sub will merge with and into Albertsons, following which Albertsons will continue as the surviving corporation and a direct, wholly owned subsidiary of Kroger (the “Transaction”). As a result, Kroger will hold 100% of the voting securities of Albertsons. The consideration for the Transaction is approximately $24.6 billion (subject to adjustment as set forth in the Agreement), including the assumption of approximately $4.7 billion of Albertsons’ debt.

The purpose of the proposed transaction is to enhance the merged firm’s competitiveness, allowing it to offer lower-priced products, better product selection, store improvements, and an upgraded consumer experience. Kroger’s evaluation of a possible acquisition of Albertsons was focused on Albertsons’ grocery operations, though its plans for store improvements and an upgraded consumer experience will also benefit pharmacy customers, and its plans to offer lower-priced products are applicable to the sale of non-prescription drugs and other non-prescription health care goods.

Kroger is still in the process of identifying the stores and other assets that will be divested to secure clearance for the proposed transaction. A SpinCo is one potential mechanism to effectuate certain store divestitures necessary to obtain the regulatory clearances necessary to consummate the transaction. The SpinCo would be created as an Albertsons subsidiary then spun-off to Albertsons’ shareholders immediately prior to merger closing and operate as a standalone public company. No plans related to a potential SpinCo have been finalized at this time. More detail on SpinCo can be found in the press release announcing the proposed transaction:

<https://ir.kroger.com/CorporateProfile/press-releases/press-release/2022/Kroger-and-Albertsons-Companies-Announce-Definitive-Merger-Agreement/default.aspx>.

7. Briefly describe any anticipated operational or management changes resulting from the transaction, including changes in health care services offered, staffing changes, new investments or other initiatives, implementation of new policies and procedures, and organizational structure changes. Include a description of the transaction’s impact on the financial stability of any entity involved in the transaction.

The parties do not expect the transaction to result in any changes to the health care services offered in Kroger and Albertsons supermarkets in Oregon or nationally. Kroger has no plans to reduce the scope or types of health care products and services offered in Oregon, the number of its grocery stores or pharmacies in Oregon, or the types of insurance accepted at its pharmacies at or immediately following closing. Kroger also expects to retain all employees providing pharmacy services in Albertsons' supermarket locations in Oregon and nationally and to retain all Albertsons employees that provide virtual clinical services in Oregon and nationally. (As noted, neither Albertsons nor Kroger provides in-store clinical services in Oregon.) Kroger plans to invest approximately $500 million to reduce prices for customers; $1.3 billion in Albertsons stores to enhance the customer experience; and $1.0 billion to continue raising associate wages and comprehensive benefits after close. The increased competitiveness of the combined Kroger and Albertson entities will improve Kroger's financial stability and increase its ability to make investments that reduce cost, increase access, and improve the overall customer experience.

II. Impact from the Proposed Transaction

8. Describe the expected impact – increase, decrease, or no change – of the proposed transaction on access to affordable health care in Oregon. Explain your answer.

Kroger prices are generally lower than the prices charged by Albertsons (approximately 6.4% lower) across all items sold in their stores, including health and beauty care products but excluding prescription drugs, vaccines, and the like. Kroger anticipates sourcing efficiencies from the combination with Albertsons that will enable lower sourcing costs for prescription drugs and other health care products, which will help Kroger maintain affordable prescription drug and health care product prices. As a result, Kroger expects that the transaction will improve access to affordable health care products sold in their retail locations in Oregon.

Kroger expects that the merged company will better be able to partner with its suppliers of prescription drugs and other health care goods to drive efficiencies in the supply chain that will reduce costs, resulting in lower prices for its customers. Prior to closing, Kroger does not have access to the information necessary to specify how savings related to health care products may be passed on to consumers or payers.

9. Explain how, if at all, the proposed transaction will:
- improve health outcomes for residents of this state.

One of Kroger Health's strategic pillars for 2021-2025 focuses on preventing illness through a personalized and educated approach to enjoying healthier food. For this pillar, Kroger Health's key focus is on increasing access to healthy foods, supplements, and groceries for the populations Kroger serves. As noted, pharmacy sales account for less than 10% of each of Kroger's and Albertsons' sales and planning for the transaction has not to date focused on any improvements or other changes to pharmacy operations. Kroger has no current plans to change pharmacy operations in any Albertsons store, though it anticipates that through the sharing of best practices that pharmacy services can be improved in both Kroger and Albertsons stores in Oregon and nationwide.

Additionally, Kroger's Zero Hunger | Zero Waste social and environmental impact plan seeks to increase access to fresh, affordable food through its retail stores, seamless digital channels, and community engagement. Under this plan, Kroger donates millions of pounds of surplus food to feed hungry families across America, including in Oregon. In 2022 alone, Kroger donated over 500 million meals to people in need. Building on this longstanding commitment, Kroger has also announced that, upon completion of the merger with Albertsons, the combined company will donate 10 billion meals by 2030 to feed people struggling with hunger.

The merged company will better be able to partner with its suppliers of prescription drugs and other health care goods to drive efficiencies in the supply chain that will reduce costs and help increase supply of products, resulting in lower prices for its customers. By reducing prices, including prices for nutritious food, in Albertsons' stores and by applying Kroger's approach to educating consumers about healthier food and Zero Hunger | Zero Waste plan to Albertsons' business, Kroger expects that the transaction will help improve health outcomes in Oregon.

- b. benefit the public good by reducing the growth in patient costs. (If the transaction will not reduce the growth in patient costs, explain why the proposed transaction is in the best interest of the public.)

Kroger anticipates sourcing efficiencies from the combination with Albertsons that will enable lower sourcing costs for prescription drugs and other health care products sold in its pharmacies and stores, which will help Kroger reduce the growth in prescription drug and health care product costs for patients, including patients in Oregon. Kroger is committed to improving the health of its customers, including increasing their access to health care. While neither Kroger nor Albertsons currently offers in-store clinical services in Oregon, Kroger and Albertsons both offer such services outside Oregon as part of their efforts to improve access to cost-effective health care.

- c. benefit the public good by increasing access to services for medically underserved populations.

Kroger is focused on increasing access to affordable healthy foods, supplements, and groceries for the populations Kroger serves. By applying this focus to Albertsons' business, Kroger expects that the transaction will increase access to healthy products and healthcare services in the communities that Albertsons serves, including medically underserved populations.

Kroger is committed to improving the health of its customers, including increasing their access to health care. While neither Kroger nor Albertsons currently offers in-store clinical services in Oregon, Kroger and Albertsons both offer such services outside Oregon as part of their efforts to improve access to cost-effective health care. Kroger regularly evaluates the feasibility of expanding the geographic scope of its in-store clinical offerings, and anticipates continuing to do so after its acquisition of Albertsons.

After the transaction, Kroger and Albertsons will continue provide the same level of services as are currently provided by the parties regarding pharmacists prescribing and administering pharmaceuticals as well as prescribing and dispensing contraceptives.

- d. benefit the public good by rectifying historical and contemporary factors contributing to health inequities or access to services.

Kroger is focused on increasing access to affordable healthy foods, supplements, and groceries for the populations Kroger serves. By applying this focus to Albertsons' business, Kroger expects that the transaction will broaden access to healthy products and healthcare services in the communities that Albertsons serves, helping rectify health inequities that may exist in those communities.

10. Will the proposed transaction result in a decrease in competition? If no, please explain. If yes, describe any anticompetitive effects that may result from the proposed transaction.

The proposed transaction will not decrease competition. Kroger and Albertsons account for a small portion of total specialty pharmacy sales, retail pharmacy sales, and medical clinic services in Oregon. According to the Oregon Board of Pharmacy, there are 1,463 licensed retail pharmacies in Oregon. See https://www.oregon.gov/pharmacy/Pages/Statistics-.aspx?wp7390=p:3#g\_93c72539\_9bfa\_4bdc\_a58d\_67f9f5adacdc. Kroger and Albertsons today operate 159 of those pharmacies, or 11%.

To address potential concerns regarding grocery competition, Kroger has publicly announced plans to divest several hundred grocery locations. Kroger and Albertsons are actively engaged with antitrust enforcers at the Federal Trade Commission and with state attorneys general (including the Oregon Attorney General), which are vetting the proposed divestitures to ensure that the transaction will not result in a loss of competition. While these divestitures are not necessary to preserve competition for pharmacy products and services given the broad array of brick and mortar and online pharmacy competitors other than the parties, the divestitures will ensure that there is no decrease in pharmacy competition.

The proposed divestitures have not yet been finalized, but Kroger anticipates divesting certain grocery stores in Oregon. The final scope of the divestiture package will be subject to negotiations with the Federal Trade Commission and state attorneys general, including the Oregon Attorney General. If a Kroger or Albertsons grocery store with a pharmacy located in Oregon is divested, the pharmacy will be divested along with the grocery store.

11. Indicate the date and nature of any applications, forms, notices, or other materials you have submitted regarding the proposed material change to any other state or federal agency. Indicate the date and nature of any other applications, forms, notices, or other materials provided to other state or federal agencies relative to the proposed material change, including but not limited to the Oregon Department of Consumer and Business Services, Oregon Public Health Division, Oregon Department of Justice, U.S. Department of Health and Human Services (e.g., Pioneer ACO or Medicare Shared Savings Program application), Federal Trade Commission, and U.S. Department of Justice.

Kroger and Albertsons submitted their Hart-Scott-Rodino filings to the Federal Trade Commission (“FTC”) on November 3, 2022. The FTC issued a Request for Additional Information (“Second Request”) to Kroger and Albertsons separately on December 5, 2022, which requested extensive information about Kroger and Albertsons’ business operations and the proposed transaction. Kroger and Albertsons have submitted to the FTC voluminous documents and data responsive to the Second Request and will continue to do so on a rolling basis. The documents and data provided to the FTC relate to Kroger’s business operations, competition, pricing, procurement, and manufacturing operations, among other topics. Subject to confidentiality agreements, certain state attorneys general, including the Oregon Attorney General, have received all of Kroger and Albertsons’ submissions in response to the Second Request.

Kroger and Albertsons also have responded to separate requests from various state attorneys general, including the Oregon Attorney General. These requests overlap nearly entirely with the Second Request.

12. Will the proposed material change transaction change control of a public benefit corporation or religious corporation?

No
