MEET OUR NEW HB4052 LEAD!

Nicole Thompson (she/hers) is a multiracial woman born in Portland, OR, with Euro-American and Black-American/Panamanian/West Indian roots. She attended Azusa Pacific University in sunny southern California to get out of the rain.

During undergrad she studied Sociology and worked with communities in downtown LA, Camden NJ, and rural/urban areas of South Africa. After graduation, she returned to Portland and worked in college housing services, non-profit project management, and the Nike world headquarters.

About the same time COVID arrived, Nicole moved out to rural Pendleton, OR to support family. Here she also began her journey of sobriety from alcoholism and mental health challenges. She completed her Masters in Management and Leadership from Warner Pacific and moved back to Portland to work with the Mental Health Addiction Association of Oregon (MHAAO) and Multnomah County. She oversaw peer services at the new Behavioral Health Resource Center (BHRC) which aims to serve houseless individuals in downtown.

When not hard at work, Nicole can be found walking her Dachshund puppy, Mocha, on the waterfront, taking trips to the Coast, and is looking forward to the annual Rose Festival and Pendleton Round Up!
