Please use the kit in presentations with employees, employers, professional associations, chambers of commerce and others.

By spreading the word, you can motivate Oregon employers to create worksite wellness programs that can improve employee health and satisfaction, boost productivity, control health care costs and strengthen the bottom line.

The kit includes:

- Wellness at Work quiz to spark conversation
- PowerPoint on the value of worksite wellness
- PowerPoint on how to start a program
- Instructions for using the online assessment tool to shape a wellness action plan
- Handout on core components of worksite wellness, plus success stories from employers
- “What’s the Hard Return on Employee Wellness Programs?”
— reprinted from Harvard Business Review

Please visit www.healthoregon.org/wellnessatwork to download the kit.
