

ECTOPIC PREGNANCY

An ectopic pregnancy, sometimes called a tubal pregnancy, happens if a fertilized egg (embryo) starts to grow outside the uterus, often in the fallopian tube.

It is important for you to know the signs of an ectopic pregnancy as it requires emergency care.

Signs to look for:

- Vaginal bleeding
- Dizziness or fainting
- Belly pain or pelvic pain
- Shoulder pain
- Nausea and vomiting with pain

Seek medical care if you have any signs or symptoms!

MAKING A DECISION

Are you pregnant and undecided on what to do? We understand this is a personal decision that only you can make. Here is information about the options available to you. If you have questions please speak with your healthcare provider.

Some questions you can ask yourself:

- What options (adoption, abortion, or parenting) am I considering?
- What are the pros and cons of the options I'm considering?
- What information do I need to make this decision?
- Who can I speak with about my decision?

Here are some additional resources to help you make your decision:

All-Options - Provides judgment-free support for people in all of their decisions, feelings, and experiences with pregnancy, parenting, abortion, and adoption. 1-888-493-0092, all-options.org
