
Land Acknowledgment

We acknowledge the land we occupy today as the traditional and ancestral home of indigenous peoples who have lived along the Columbia River since time immemorial.

Without them, we would not have access to this gathering and to this dialogue. We take this opportunity to thank and honor the original caretakers of this land.