

If Your Home Was Lost or Damaged in the 2020 Labor Day Disasters, ReOregon Can Help

Homeowner Assistance and Reconstruction Program (HARP)

ReOregon will launch HARP in the first months of 2024 to offer financial assistance to help homeowners repair, rebuild, or replace those homes.

HARP may be able to help with:

- Remaining repair costs
- Remaining costs to rebuild or replace your home
- Fixes to a replacement home

If you have already completed your new home

Although the first phase of HARP will cover only future costs, please hold on to all your rebuilding receipts and records. If funds are available, reimbursement may be possible in a future phase.

Are you eligible for HARP?

You do not have to be a U.S. citizen or resident to apply to HARP. Initially, the program will assist only low- and moderate-income survivors (see below). However, even if your income is higher than the amount listed, we still want to hear from you.

The table below shows the income limits for each county, based on the number of people in your household. For example, if your damaged home is in Jackson County and there are four people in your household, your total household income must be less than or equal to $64,700 a year for you to be eligible to receive assistance in the first phase of HARP.

How to apply to HARP

You will be able to apply for HARP assistance either online at re.oregon.gov or by working directly with a local community partner, who can assist you with the application process. Information about community partners in your area can be found at re.oregon.gov.

You will need the following information:

- Proof that you owned your home and lived there as your primary residence
- Proof of damage from the 2020 Labor Day disasters
- Proof of your current income
- Info on any insurance or other recovery funds you received
- Proof of identity (for example, photo ID)

For more information about required documents, visit re.oregon.gov. Community partners can help you collect the preferred documents, find other ways to prove you are eligible, and complete the application when it is available.

If you have been helped by the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA), you can use your FEMA Individual Assistance ID number in place of some of the required documents. However, you will still need to provide proof of identity and current income.

We want to hear from you

If your home suffered damages or was destroyed, you should start your application by completing the eligibility questionnaire when HARP launches, regardless of whether you think you will qualify right away. We will review all information to identify what assistance you may be able to receive.

Do you know someone who needs help with housing recovery?

Make sure to tell your friends and neighbors about HARP. The more people know, the more we can help.
