

INTRODUCTION

What are the privileges of a Direct Shipper permit?

A Direct Shipper permit allows certain people to ship (deliver) not more than two cases per month of malt beverages, wine, or cider directly to a resident of Oregon. A Direct Shipper permit does not allow the holder to ship malt beverages, wine, or cider directly to an Oregon retail licensee.

What are the definitions in Oregon for cider, malt beverage, and wine?

- Cider is made from the fermentation of the juice of apples or pears that contains not more than 8.5% alcohol by volume, including, but not limited to, flavored, sparkling or carbonated cider.
- Malt Beverage is made from the fermentation of grain and contains not more than 14% alcohol by volume. Malt beverage includes beer, ale, porter, stout and similar alcoholic beverages. Malt beverage does not include cider or an alcoholic beverages obtained primarily by fermentation of rice, such as sake.
- Wine is made via the fermentation process, is not a cider or malt beverage, and contains not more than 21% alcohol by volume. Note: Cider containing more than 8.5% alcohol is considered wine

What is the fee for a Direct Shipper permit?

The fee is $50 per calendar year regardless of how many types of alcohol you are approved to ship.

For what period of time is a Direct Shipper permit valid?

A Direct Shipper permit expires on December 31 of each year. Every year you must renew the permit and pay the $50 fee to maintain a valid Direct Shipper permit. The OLCC will mail you a renewal application every year.

What are the qualifications to obtain a Direct Shipper permit to ship WINE or CIDER?

- You must hold a license issued by a state within the United States other than Oregon and your license must authorize:
 - The manufacture of wine or cider; and/or
 - The sale of wine or cider at retail in sealed containers for consumption off the licensed premises.

What are the qualifications to obtain a Direct Shipper permit to ship MALT BEVERAGES?

- You must hold a license issued by a state within the United States other than Oregon and your license must authorize:
 - The manufacture of malt beverages; and/or
 - The sale of malt beverages at retail in sealed containers for consumption off the licensed premises.
- AND, your state must allow Oregon licensees to ship malt beverages directly to a resident of your state.

What is a privilege tax?

Oregon assesses a tax on the privilege of shipping malt beverage, wine, or cider into Oregon. This is called a privilege tax. The holder of the Direct Shipper permit is responsible for declaring and paying the privilege tax to the OLCC.

What is a privilege tax bond?

This is a bond the holder of a Direct Shipper permit is required to obtain. It allows the OLCC to collect payment if the privilege taxes are not paid. The minimum bond amount is $1,000. For questions email OLCC.Bonds@oregon.gov.

Is there an exception to the requirement to obtain a privilege tax bond?

Possibly. The holder of a Direct Shipper permit with approval to ship ONLY WINE may be eligible for a bond waiver (see page 3). There is no waiver for malt beverage or cider.

What are the record keeping and reporting requirements?

You must file on a quarterly basis with the OLCC's privilege tax department and pay any owed tax. Reports for the preceding calendar quarter are due on or before the 20th day of Jan, Apr, July and Oct. When the OLCC issues you a Direct Shipper permit, the privilege tax department will send you all required forms within 30 days. If you have any questions, call Lisa Paullin-Anzaldúa at 503.872.5168.
