Some businesses lose half hour of alcohol sales when Daylight Saving Time begins

PORTLAND, Ore. – Oregonians will officially move their clocks forward one hour when Daylight Saving Time begins at 2:00 a.m., Sunday, March 11. As a result, some nightclubs, bars, taverns and other liquor licensed premises that serve alcohol until 2:30 a.m. will lose a half hour of alcohol sales.

These businesses will get the half hour back plus an additional 30 minutes when Daylight Saving Time ends in November.

According to the Oregon Liquor Control Commission, liquor licensed businesses must stop the sale, service and consumption of alcohol when 2:00 a.m. becomes 3:00 a.m.
