Change in Medical Grow Site Names

The OLCC has become aware that the facility name of grow sites can be accessed by other Metrc users in certain areas of CTS. The OLCC and Metrc have developed a solution to prevent medical grow site addresses from being displayed to other licensees. Medical growers will have their facility name changed to a "scrubbed" version of their address, thereby preventing others from having access to the address information.

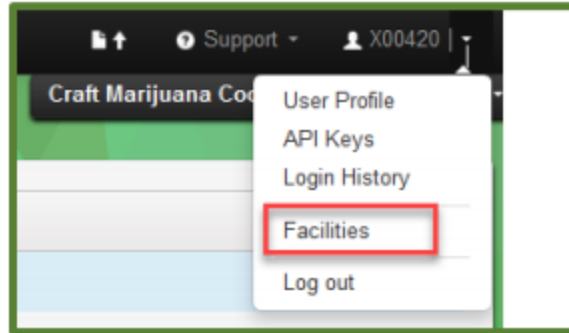

With the implementation of the Metrc solution the facility name displayed in the top right corner of Metrc will change for all medical grow site users. However, licensees have the option to edit the facility display name to a preferred name that more easily identifies which grow site is listed. See below for how-to-change instructions.

Changing the Facility Display Name

The key administrator (GSA) for your facility is able to create a preferred name or "nickname" for facilities that will appear in the black dropdown facility box. A GSA will be the only person able to create this "nickname," and only for that individual GSA's grow site(s). The "nickname" will only be visible to you and those employees with Metrc access within your facility. For example, a grower could use this feature to rename the grow site to something easier to remember (e.g. "Medford Grow Site") or any other naming convention that the GSA chooses for personal reference. This "nickname" feature will be especially helpful for growers assigned to multiple grow sites so that they can more easily distinguish between grow sites they are working with. Transfer manifests will continue to show the "scrubbed" name of the grow site only, not the nickname.

Here are the steps you can follow to personalize your grow site with a preferred “nickname.” After logging into METRC:

- GSA’s can change your facility name by selecting Admin/Facilities from the top navigation menu. If you do not see this option in the dropdown, it means that you do not have the Metrc permissions you need to create this “nickname.” Only one user (the “industry admin” in Metrc) is able to make this change for the site.

- Next, highlight the facility you want to rename and click Edit Facilities Name button.

- Next, type in the alias/nickname you would like to use for this facility in the Custom Name box and click the green Save Names button.

- 'Save Names' (highlighted with a red box) and 'Cancel' buttons at the bottom.

- Once the custom name has been saved it will appear like this
