regulating and disciplining certain healthcare providers, including podiatric physicians, in the State of Oregon. Patrick Theodore Code, DPM (Licensee) is a licensed podiatric physician in the State of Oregon.

2.
The Board received credible information regarding Licensee that resulted in the Board initiating an investigation. The results of the Board’s investigation to date have raised concerns to the extent that the Board believes it necessary that Licensee agree to cease the practice of podiatry until the investigation is completed.

In order to address the concerns of the Board, Licensee and the Board agree to enter into this Interim Stipulated Order, which is not an admission of any wrongdoing on the part of the Licensee, and provides that Licensee shall comply with the following conditions effective the date this Order is signed by Licensee:

3.1 Licensee voluntarily withdraws from the practice of podiatry and his license is placed in Inactive status pending the completion of the Board’s investigation into his ability to safely and competently practice podiatry.

3.2 Licensee understands that violating any term of this Order will be grounds for disciplinary action under ORS 677.190(17).

5. This Order is issued by the Board pursuant to ORS 677.265(1) and (2) for the purpose of protecting the public, and making a complete investigation in order to fully inform itself with respect to the performance or conduct of the Licensee and Licensee’s ability to safely and competently practice podiatry. ORDER TERMINATING INTERIM STIPULATED ORDER
— Elisabeth Lee Jappay, MD
BEFORE THE
OREGON MEDICAL BOARD
STATE OF OREGON

IN THE MATTER OF:
)
NAINA SACHDEV, MD  )  FINAL ORDER ON REMAND LICENSE NO. MD16352  )

HISTORY OF THE CASE

On October 2, 2014, the Oregon Medical Board (Board) issued its Final Order in which it revoked the medical license of Naina Sachdev, MD (Licensee), imposed a civil penalty of $10,000 and assessed the costs of the proceeding. Licensee filed a petition for judicial review with the Court of Appeals. This case was argued and submitted on November 7, 2016. The Court of Appeals issued its opinion on July 18, 2018, Sachdev v.
Oregon Medical Board, 292 Or. App. 778 (2018). The Court issued its Appellate Judgment on February 20, 2019.

In its opinion, the Oregon Court of Appeals reversed a number of the Board’s findings of fact and conclusions of law, based upon a legal conclusion that the Board’s Complaint and Notice of Proposed Disciplinary Action provided inadequate notice to Licensee, but affirmed the Board’s conclusions that Licensee had repeatedly violated the Board’s Interim Stipulated Order (ISO) that she signed on June 7, 2012. In its Opinion, the Court stated that the Board “…alleged three factual circumstances when licensee engaged in the practice of medicine because she ‘on repeated occasions managed and directed patient care at her clinic, to include directing clinic staff to order lab work, to perform certain tasks in regard to patient care, and to issue or refill prescriptions for patients.’”

The Court remanded the Board’s Final Order, stating in its conclusion the following: “For the foregoing reasons, we reverse and remand the board’s order. The board’s determination that licensee violated the ISO was supported by adequate notice.
However, the remaining grounds for discipline were not properly before the board and cannot be used as a basis to sanction licensee…The board may, on remand, consider the appropriate sanction for violation of the ISO…”

DISCUSSION

Pursuant to the Opinion of the Court of Appeals and the Board’s Final Order of October 2, 2014, the Board concludes that Licensee willfully violated the terms of the Interim Stipulated Order on repeated occasions, in violation of ORS 677.190(17). To the extent they are relevant to the violation of ORS 677.190(17), the findings of fact and conclusions of law in the October 2, 2014, Final Order are hereby incorporated by reference.

On remand, the Board must now determine the appropriate sanction to assess in view of her willful and repeated violations of the terms of the ISO. The Board has a statutory mission to “…protect the public from the practice of medicine by unauthorized or unqualified persons…and to exercise general supervision over the practice of medicine

FINAL ORDER ON REMAND – Naina Sachdev, MD within this state.” See ORS 677.015 and ORS 677.265(1)(c). The Board only offers an ISO to withdraw from practice to a licensee when the Board has a reasonable belief that there is a risk of immediate danger to the public if the licensee continues to practice medicine with an unrestricted license. Licensee entered into the ISO on June 7, 2012 to withdraw from the practice of medicine, but on repeated occasions, violated that order by engaging in the active practice of medicine by directing clinic staff in the provision of patient care to patients in her clinic or directly providing care to multiple patients. On each occasion, this represented a decision by Licensee to violate the terms of her order when other health care providers were available within her clinic to provide care to her patients. The Board cannot effectively exercise general supervision over the practice of medicine and carry out its mission to protect the public when a licensee willfully breaches a formal agreement/Order with the Board. Such conduct by Licensee strikes at the heart of the professional relationship between a licensee and their licensing board, and compels the Board to ask how it is possible to exercise general supervision over such a physician? And how may the Board adequately protect the public when such a licensee has demonstrated an unwillingness to obey the law and to comply with their agreements with the Board?

By willfully violating the ISO on repeated occasions, Licensee was not honest with the Board in that she breached the terms of an agreement/Order with the Board that she had committed to comply with. This highlights a disregard for the authority of her licensing board, and an unwillingness on her part to conform her conduct to the requirements of the law. Her conduct also placed her clinic staff into a conflicted situation, in which they knew she had agreed to refrain from practicing medicine, so that they had to decide whether to acquiesce to her continued medical practice and her directed orders and tasks related to patient care or to comply with the express terms of the Board's ISO.

The Board concludes that the appropriate sanction to assess in such a case is to revoke Licensee’s medical license. The Board also assesses a $10,000 civil penalty. In regard to costs, the total costs assessed in the Bill of Costs for this case was $119,836 as detailed in the December 29, 2014, Bill of Costs. In response to the Court’s decision to reverse many of the allegations of licensee misconduct due to lack of adequate notice, the Board will limit the assessment of costs to $30,000.

EXCEPTIONS

The Board issued its Proposed Order on Remand on May 2, 2019, which informed Licensee that she had 10 (ten) days to file her exceptions. On May 10, 2019, Licensee submitted to the Board a document that she captioned as “SACHDEV MD’S OPPOSITION TO OMB’S PROPOSED ORDER ON REMAND.” In this submission, Licensee stated that the Board’s proposed sanction of revocation “is far too severe and not appropriate for the offense of violating the Board’s Interim Stipulated Order (ISO).” Licensee’s written response then offered an alternative sanction for the Board to consider, when she stated: “A more appropriate sanction would be suspension for three years with credit for the period of revocation (Dr. Sachdev’s revocation of October 2, 2014, and continuing) and reinstatement is more than sufficient, particularly in light of the fact that all the other substantive allegations were dismissed....”

Licensee also submitted a letter dated June 20, 2019, in which Licensee asked the Board to consider that she had learned from the experience and “...changed her practice and attitude in response to OMB’s concerns and criticisms.”

At its Board meeting on July 11, 2019, the Board deliberated regarding the proposed order and considered Licensee’s exceptions and submittals. After careful consideration of the significance of the violations and the submitted exceptions, the Board voted to accept the Proposed Order on Remand as written and was not persuaded by Licensee’s exceptions to alter the sanctions set forth in this Order. Licensee’s repeated violations of the Board’s ISO, which was put in place to protect the public, warrants the sanction of revocation and financial assessments.

1. The medical license of Naina Sachdev, MD, is revoked.
