Conservation Funding in U.S.

Carl Shoemaker, Chief of Oregon Fish & Game Commission helped develop national model for funding fish and wildlife management

- User pay model (North American)
 - Started in 1930's
 - Expanded in 1950's to include fishing
 - Licenses and tag sales
 - Federal excise tax on purchases of firearms, ammunition, and fishing tackle
- Primary funding source for conservation and management of fish and wildlife
- Half of ODFW revenue is from license fees and federal excise taxes
