The person listed as the Company Representative must have completed and passed the Liquefied Petroleum Gas Company Examination.

The license issued is for the company. It is not a license for the individual listed as the company representative. If the company representative listed on the license leaves the company, please notify this office in writing and we will arrange to have the new company representative complete the Company Examination.

The Company License does not qualify the company representative to do propane fitter/truck equipment operator work for the company. If they intend to perform fitter/truck equipment operator work and have not completed the examination process, they must notify this office and arrange to complete the fitter/truck equipment operator examination.
