

A Visitor's Permit allows a psychologist actively licensed in another state in good standing to practice psychology in Oregon for a limited purpose and for a limited, time-specific period.

The Statement of Work must list a specific work purpose, time period, and location of the activity to be performed.

*Examples of qualifying work*:*

- I have been appointed by the Payette County District Court to conduct a child custody evaluation. On July 2nd, I plan to conduct perform a home visit observation at the father's home in Ontario, Oregon.
- I have a client who is a college student in Washington, and she will be returning home to Portland, Oregon for summer break from June through August. I wish to provide tele-mental health services to her on a biweekly basis from my office in Seattle, Washington.
- I have been asked to perform work as a subject matter expert on factitious disorders by Oregon DHS in Salem. This will include clinical interviews of a family (mother and father) and records review on or about January 1st -5th, followed by a report [detail] and possible expert testimony in Marion County Court (I will update the Board on the date if this is scheduled).
- My client of 5 years is moving to Eugene, Oregon and I am requesting a permit that will allow me to perform weekly telephone therapy sessions (as appropriate) from my office in Reno, Nevada beginning the week of November 3rd in order to provide continuity of therapy, support for any adjustment difficulties she may experience, and to transition her to a local provider. I expect to end the week of December 1st but will notify the Board if this changes.
- I have been appointed by the Unites States District Court, District of Oregon, Portland Division to conduct a psychological evaluation [detail] of an inmate housed at the Multnomah County Inverness Jail during the first week of May.
- The Oregon West Coast Post-Trauma Retreat has requested my services at a 6-day retreat from August 9-14 at Camp Horseshoe in Klamath Falls, Oregon. I will be administering, scoring and interpreting psychological tests, teaching psychoeducational groups, facilitating group psychotherapy, and conducting EMDR sessions for 10 emergency first responders.

Work that is ongoing, open-ended and/or does not have specific purpose will not qualify for a limited permit. A full license is required in these cases.

Examples of work that does not qualify:

- My office is near the border of California and Oregon and I wish to expand my practice to see clients at a colleague's Oregon office space one day every other week (no more than 30 days total) between January 1, 2014 and December 31, 2015.
- I plan to conduct evaluations and consult at a wilderness program for 2 days per month beginning on May 30th.
- I have three custody evaluations scheduled in Oregon for this summer but I will not go over the 30 day limit.
- My client is relocating to Hood River, Oregon and I would like to continue therapy over the phone biweekly or as needed on an ongoing basis.

*These are summaries for purposes of illustration only; actual statements of work should generally include a greater level of detail and list the names of the parties requesting the activity (to the extent permissible under confidentiality laws).
