Introduction

A specialization on an Oregon educator license is an optional indication of specialized expertise or preparation in an area the Commission recognizes as “added value” on a license. A specialization indicates the educator has demonstrated exceptional knowledge, skills and related abilities in that area. A specialization must meet standards or requirements set by the Commission.

A specialization is distinguished from an endorsement in that a specialization is not required to teach or work in the specialized area, whereas an endorsement is required to work in the subject-matter area.

The American Sign Language specialization and the Bilingual specialization can only be added to the following licenses:

Teaching Licenses

Preliminary Teaching
Professional Teaching
Teacher Leader
Legacy Teaching

Administrator Licenses

Principal
Professional Administrator

Personnel Service Licenses

Preliminary School Counselor
Professional School Counselor
Preliminary School Psychologist
Professional School Psychologist
Preliminary School Social Worker
Professional School Social Worker

The following specializations can be added to a Preliminary Teaching, Professional Teaching and Teacher Leader License only:

- Adaptive Physical Education (also requires an underlying Physical Education endorsement)
- Autism Spectrum Disorder (also requires an underlying endorsement in any of the Special Education areas).
- Dual Language
- Early Childhood Education (also requires an underlying endorsement in Elementary Multiple Subjects)
- Mathematics Instructional Leader PK-8 (also requires an underlying endorsement in Elementary Multiple Subjects or Foundational Mathematics)
- Mathematics Instructional Leader 6-12 (also requires an underlying endorsement in Advanced Mathematics)
- Talented and Gifted

Specializations on the Reciprocal license:

A specialization may not be held on, or added to, a Reciprocal license.

If you held similar specialization in another state, you may be eligible to hold the specialization when you move from the Reciprocal to your next non-provisional license by meeting the following:

- If the specialization requires a test only, you must pass the Commission-adopted test for the specialization.
- If the specialization requires completion of a program, you will need to contact an Oregon educator preparation provider with an approved program for the specialization for review of your credentials. If the specialization does not have an approved program in Oregon, any approved Oregon educator preparation provider may provide a recommendation. The recommendation must be provided in the manner and form required by the Commission.
