DEFAULT ORDER
REVOKING LICENSE

In early May 1999, Jean Sroba contacted TSPC by telephone regarding reports from her alcohol treatment provider. Ms. Sroba's inquiry was related to a Stipulation of Facts, Suspension and Order of Probation adopted by the Commission's in May 1998. Terms of Ms. Sroba's probation required her to provide the Executive Director of the Commission with reports of her compliance with her alcohol treatment program. An additional condition of Sroba's probation required her to abstain from the consumption of alcoholic beverages. The Executive Director obtained information that Sroba had relapsed and did consume alcohol on several occasions, which violates the terms of her TSPC probation. On August 17, 1999, the Executive Director informed Sroba that he would recommend that the Commission revoke her Oregon Teaching License for violation of the terms of her probation. The letter was sent U.S. Certified Mail—Return Receipt Requested and was signed by Sroba on August 19, 1999. Ms. Sroba did not request a hearing.

FINDINGS OF FACT

1. On May 18, 1998, Jean Ann Sroba signed a Stipulated Agreement with the Commission suspending her license for four months from April 15, 1998 through August 15, 1998.
2. The Commission placed Sroba on Probation for two years from August 16, 1998 through August 15, 2000 pursuant to ORS 342.177(3)(b). As a condition of Probation, Sroba was required to, at her on initiative and expense, obtain treatment for her alcohol dependency and comply with the terms of the treatment plan.
3. During the period of her Probation, Sroba was required to provide periodic reports on her compliance with the treatment plan.
4. In early May 1999, the Commission became aware that Sroba had relapsed on her treatment plan and did consume alcohol on several occasions in violation of the terms of her Probation.
5. In accordance with the terms of the Probation, the Executive Director gave notice of intent to revoke Sroba's Teaching License on the ground that she had violated the terms of probation. Sroba was entitled to a hearing the issue of whether or not she had completed the terms of probation. Sroba did not request a hearing.

ULTIMATE FINDINGS OF FACT

Jean Ann Sroba failed to meet the terms of probation as agreed with the Teaching Standards and Practices Commission on May 5, 1998, which included compliance with the terms of the alcohol treatment program and continued sobriety.

CONCLUSIONS OF LAW

Under ORS 342.175, the Commission may revoke the teaching license for violation of Standards of Competent and Ethical Performance for Oregon Educators. The Commission is also authorized to impose probationary periods as appropriate.

OPINION

Jean Ann Sroba has been provided notice and assistance from her previous employer, Gresham-Barlow School District, to overcome her alcohol dependency. The Commission further attempted to assist in returning her to a productive educator by reinstating her license with probation. Unfortunately, Ms. Sroba has chosen to disregard the Commission's warnings and leaves no option but to revoke her Oregon Teaching License.

ORDER

The Commission revokes the Oregon Teaching License #242659, issued to Jean Ann Sroba, for violation of the terms of her probation.

Dated this 22nd day of November, 1999.
