

OVERVIEW: The purpose of this training program is to provide HR Professionals technical knowledge and skill in the different functions of HR in Oregon state government.

This is an instructor-led training program, and all the cohorts are offered virtually.

Participants who successfully complete this training program will be awarded the State Certified Human Resources Professional certification (SCHRP). The SCHRP certification, is considered the equivalent of six months of human resource professional-level experience for HR positions within Oregon state government. People who have received the SCHRP certification may use the certification towards meeting MQs when applying for positions in the Human Resource Assistant, Human Resource Analyst, and Human Resource Consultant classifications.

AUDIENCE: Applicants for the training program must be:

- A current full-time state employee.
- Be in human resources or a management service position.
- Have approval from their manager to participate.

LENGTH: The cohort consists of eleven sessions.

COST: There is no cost to attend if you are accepted into the training program.

TOPICS:

1. Human Resource Management
2. Overview of Oregon State Government
3. Structure of HR in Oregon State Government
4. Functions of HR in Oregon State Government
5. Self-Awareness and Relationship Management

APPLICATION: There is an application process before being eligible to participate in the program. See schedule below for more information on the application timeline.

REGISTRATION: If you are accepted into the training program, then you will be registered in Workday by CHRO.

QUESTIONS: If you have any questions about the program, please contact Brandy Meng at chro.training@das.oregon.gov or 503-480-6626.
