

2015 Core Arts Standards and Common Core Criteria Alignment

The 2015 Core Arts Standards and Common Core Criteria both include:

- high-level cognitive demands, demonstrating deep conceptual understanding plus the application of content knowledge and skills to new situations
- clear sufficient guidance so standards are teachable, learnable, measurable
- provide guidance for designing of curricula and instructional materials, reasonable in scope, instructionally manageable, promote deep understanding
- observable, verifiable and measurable learning regarding student attainment of standards
- provide a unified vision of big ideas of concepts and reflect a progression of learning
- limited repetition grade by grade to align instruction to standards
- high-performing standards to prepare for success in a global economy and society
- reasonable in scope in defining knowledge and skills students should have ready to succeed in academic college work and workforce training