The following lines will find what you requested of me I hope.

There is no place like home humble though it be.

When bitterest of life's struggles beset our paths or when we find ourselves in complete isolation, woe beyond.
Do not our thoughts, turn to our peaceful homes, the memory of which contents our turbulent minds?

So you who have the honor of graduating from so prominent a school of its kind will find in after years, when struggling with hardships, your memory wandering back to the dear old school.

Greetings and advice you will have galore, which will not be forgotten.

I hope that not one will find success defies failure

I hope these few lines will find a chord in some life to play upon.

Wishing you all a successful life I'll remain your comrade through life.

Supt. M. Friedman
Carlisle, Pa.

Dear Sir:-

Your letter has reached a feeling, that was it seems, dormant in me.
I have been indifferent to your past correspondence till your cheerful, inspiring letters before me awakened me to a stronger purpose.

With gratitude for your interest in me I'll write the following which I hope will be of some interest.

I have been a silent reader of the Arrow the only connecting link between Carlisle's representatives and myself. Stirring news it is to hear of the success and victory of a fellow Brother.

I hope the Arrow will strengthen the chord that binds us in the coming New Year.

The short time I was at Carlisle has caused me to feel the binding chords of wholesouled fellowship.

I hope this same Carlisle spirit will expand and reach the whole Native population of the United States.

may you fully understand what my pen to convey I appeal to your better judgment to turn your influence to encourage the already universal unrest among us Indians. So that the reservation Indian may fully realize the responsibilities of citizenship. Have every Carlisle pupil do his or ^{her} share in this movement, that there may be a widespread understanding among the Indians and the citizens of our Republic.

The Indian has had a very short period for changing an ~~old~~ age stained garment of Barbarism to the present one of Refinement.

The change is almost a miracle. I hope the time will be marked by a few years when the government shall abolish the present system of treating the reservation Indian and soon have them wearing the emblem of their own dear land, The stars and stripes.

Hoping these few lines are jumbled together intelligently I'll remain wishing you and your school a grand and a successive year
