

GRADE 4

Mapping Our Lands

Confederated Tribe

- A confederated Tribe is composed of multiple Tribes and bands.
- The Confederated Tribes of Siletz Indians includes dozens of bands of Native Americans from western Oregon, northern California, and southwest Washington.
- The Confederated Tribes of Siletz Indians have lived on this land since time immemorial.
- The Confederated Tribes of Siletz were removed from their ancestral homelands and forcibly moved on to a reservation in the mid-1850s.

Ancestral Territory

- The Confederated Tribes of Siletz Indians have lived on this landscape since time immemorial.
- Before removal, Native people organized themselves in hundreds of villages across the region.
- Today, many Siletz Tribal members continue to identify as both members of the Confederated Tribes of Siletz and as descendants of these original villages.

Our People

Languages of Confederated Tribes of Siletz (student)

Our Languages

- Each of the Tribes and bands within the Confederated Tribes of Siletz has a unique individual history and culture.
- The ancestors of the Confederated Tribes of Siletz speak at least 10 different base languages.

Map Activity 1

Map Activity 2

Key

Mountain range

Lake

River/Creek

Valley

Forest

